Commencement Speaker Chosen: Civic Rights Leader Julian Bond

Georgia legislator and national civic rights leader Julian Bond will be the commencement speaker at Green River Community College June 13.

The 29 year-old politician was the founder of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights (COAHR), the Atlanta University Center student organization that coordinated three years of student anti-segregation protests in Atlanta beginning in 1960. In April, 1960 he helped found the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). He was communications director for SNCC from 1961 to 1966 and worked on civil rights and voter registration campaigns in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Arkansas.

Bond was elected to the Georgia House of Representatives in 1965, but was prevented from taking office by members of the legislature who objected to his statements about the war in Vietnam. After winning a second election in February, 1966, (to fill his vacant seat) a special House Committee again voted to bar him from membership in the legislature. He won a third election in November, 1966, and a month later the United States Supreme Court ruled unanimously that the Georgia House had erred in refusing him his seat.

Last August he was co-chairman of the Georgia Loyal National Democratic delegation to the Democratic National Convention. The Loyal Democrats were successful in unseating the regular, hand-picked Georgia delegation. Bond was later nominated for vice-president, but withdrew his name from consideration because of his age.

Bond was the first co-chairman of the National Conference for New Politics and served as a member of the NCNP Executive Board.

JULIAN BOND, Georgia civil rights leader, will be the speaker at commencement exercises June 13.

Sue Aarhus Selected As Queen Candidate

One of GRCC's prettiest students, Sue Aarhus, has been chosen as Green River's candidate for the queenship of the King County Fair, to be held this year in August. Sue has already demonstrated her queenly qualities and royal charm as this year's Homecoming Queen here at Green River, and hopefully her talents will not go unnoticed in the Fair contest.

Candidates for the coveted throne are being chosen by the eight universities and community colleges in the King County area, according to the chairman of the Queen Selection Committee, Caroline Dieringer. "Each one of the schools in this area has been contacted to submit an entry for the all-county event. The winning girl will take part in community festivals in various cities around the county and also represent King County at regional events."

The queen will be chosen, explained Mrs. Dieringer, on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, and her ability to represent King County...which, of course, we feel describes perfectly our own candidate, Sue.

Excitement Grows As Raft Race Nears

This Saturday marks the date of the fourth annual Green River College Raft Race. This event is one of the few traditions that have been established in the brief history of the school. Each year, many intrepid sailors brave the cold waters of the Green River to cover the three mile course from Isaac Evans Park to Beer Bottle Beach in Kent. Most contestants earn nothing but a quick soaking, but some walk off with the few trophies awarded to the heat winners each year; however, win or lose, everyone has a great time.

Highlight of last year's race was the entry of the Faculty Wives who were out to prove that the "weaker" sex can do just as well as their "he-man" husbands.

This year, as every year, rafts from other colleges will try to end the GRCC winning streak. All entries must report to the starter by 12:30 Saturday afternoon. The race begins promptly at 1:00 p.m. Spectators as well as participants are urged to assist in the traditional "faculty dunk" at the finish line. Entry fee for the event is 50 cents.

Paul Bunyan Day Adds To Raft Race Fun

In conjunction with the Raft Race this year, Saturday has been declared Paul Bunyan Day. Several contests have been planned to honor the giant logger of legend and folktales.

The judging of the bear growing contest, a wood-chopping contest, and a tentative Pancake-speed-stuff are a few of the festivities planned. That evening a dance will be held in the GRCC gym featuring the Town Criers. Admission is one dollar and everyone, especially visitors from the other colleges, is cordially invited.

Commencement Exercises to Honor 235 Graduates

A total of 235 sophomores will be graduated on Friday, June 13, in the college gym.

It will be the largest graduating class in the four-year history of the college. In 1965 the faculty outnumbered the graduates when only 27 students received diplomas. The next year 81 students were graduated and last year 163 received diplomas.

Speakers selected by the student committee include Julian Bond, Georgia legislator who is a national leader in civil rights; Dr. Gerald Miller of the faculty; and students Chris Harron and Brian Murray. Chris Goodman, vice-president of the student body, will be the master of ceremonies for the program.

Since the program is being held in the gym with a seating capacity of more than 2,000, anyone is welcome to attend. No invitations will be necessary, but Earl Norman, Dean of Students, advised that visitors arrive early to get the best parking. The program starts at 8 p.m.

Editorials and Opinion

An Editor Should Be...

As editor of the Current this past quarter, I wish to say "thank you" to all of those on campus who have helped me in my effort to steer the Current along the lines of what I think a college newspaper should be.

I think that this newspaper should be an intelligently written student newspaper that attempts to go beyond just being a news-sheet, and tries to give an honestly-conceived interpretation of what is happening on campus, and by that interpretation to stimulate thought and opinion among students and others who read it.

I believe that the editor of the college newspaper must be "above politics," and must be ready at all times during his editorship to subjugate his views to what is best for the college as a whole, for the paper is for the whole student body, not just one faction.

The editorship is no place for the glory-seeker, the student who seeks to blow his own horn, to gain only his ends, to the detriment and neglect of all those other students and groups on campus.

There are, of course, those who disagree with this view, who feel that the student editor has every right to shape the college newspaper to whatever ends he desires.

Perhaps they are as right in their opinion as I feel I am in mine. I do not dispute that point.

However, as editor I have come to feel that this editorship is a trust, and must be regarded as such; it carries with it obligation as well as honor.

I wish to thank my faithful staff, Journalism Instructor Ed Eaton, (my guiding light,) and all those of the student body and faculty who have done their best to help me produce the kind of newspaper we think Green River deserves.

CARNEGIE PERFORMER TEACHES HERE

A pretty pianissimo addition to G.R.C.C.'s music department is Mrs. Linda Hempe. When approached for a personal interview, Mrs. Hempe blushed and was most reluctant to talk about herself. "I'm not interesting," she said, "Why not write about the student recital?"

Not interesting!!! Mr. Hempe was kind enough to supply the Current with a long list of musical accomplishments to prove otherwise.

Mrs. Hempe has been concertizing since the age of 15. She holds a degree in both piano and vocal performance. At 18, Mrs. Hempe won the Portland Symphony Piano Concert Contest and was the guest artist with it. Her performance was chosen to be played from Carnegie Hall on a nationwide CBS broadcast. Since then she has appeared with the Portland State Symphonette, the Spokane Symphony, the Boris Sirpo Chamber Orchestra and the University of Oregon Symphony, to name a few.

As a dramatic soprano she has sung professionally in operatic leads with such companies as the Portland Opera Association, the Fuerst Opera Association and the New Savoy Opera Company which annually tours the United States.

In 1959, she won the American Talent Contest from the West Coast and represented the western states nationally in Indiana. She was the only musician last year to be chosen from the University of Oregon graduate school to be elected to the National Professional Musicians Honorary, Pi Kappa Lambda.

Mrs. Hempe taught piano and voice lessons for several years while serving as assistant opera director at the University of Oregon.

She has been offered grants and fellowships to Germany, Switzerland and New York, but prefers to remain in the Pacific Northwest which she calls "home."

Senate Doesn't Regret Last Week's Hijinks

Budget and Senate By-Laws approval required three meetings during the past week. The regular meeting on May 21 was followed by two special sessions, one on Friday, May 23 and one on Monday, May 26.

The regular meeting was dominated by budget problems and the $1,000.00 additional request to the previously submitted proposed budget. Between May 21 and May 23, Dean Norman informed President Hunt that the additional $1,000.00 could be granted. Information was also received on the intervening day, that two meetings which require a Green River student representative's presence are to be held in Portland, Oregon and Seattle, thus reducing anticipated travel funds requirements. A compromise was reached and the Senate voted to retain $500.00 of the $1,000.00.

President Dan Hunt informed the Senate of his intention to issue a written apology to the Green River Current and their representative for the expulsion of the reporter from the senate chamber during the May 14 meeting. Gordon Ip was the only senator who voted to join the president in this apology. Darrel Hagen abstained from the voting and all others present voted no.

Darrel Hagen stated he didn't care for the wording as proposed by President Hunt, as his reason for abstention.

President Hunt had to remind the Senators that the Senate by-laws must be approved and printed in the college paper before they can be passed by the Senate and put into effect. The Senate remained in session until one p.m. approving most of the by-laws.

Dave Messmer, President elect, proposed that the requirements to hold office be no greater than the average 2.0 accumulative grade point instead of the minimum 2.5 gpa as previously proposed. The motion passed. The majority of the proposed constitution by-laws were approved.

Mr. Mike McIntyre, advisor, was absent during part of the meeting.

Keith Williams, a member of the audience, was recognized and expressed his astonishment that parliamentary rules seemed to be disregarded during the meetings.

A resolution to recognize this year's student body members and their work to acquire funds for the Student Services building, with a Honorary Associated Student Body card allowing those members use of the building with student rates in perpetuity, was presented by Gordon Ip. It was deferred for further study and consideration at the next meeting.

Pres. Hunt announced the agenda for the May 28 meeting; there are some awards to be given, Parliamentarian Bill Gillespie will act as inaugural officer for the new Senators, and vice-president Chris Goodman will perform the inaugural ceremonies for Vice-President elect Tony Bressan. President Hunt will preside for the inauguration of President-elect Dave Messmer.

A final designers touch will be put on GRCC's campus this week during the Annual Spring Festival of the Fine Arts. The addition will be four "environmental systems" that have been described as modular, interlocking, 3-dimensional, design structures by creative arts division head, Bernie Blea.

These pure form sculptures are the result of one of Robert Short's third quarter design class assignments. They will be appropriately placed around GRCC's campus center. Short's class of 17 students was assigned the conceptual problem of defining the qualities of space (length, width and height) using a geometric modular chair network relating mass and volume.

Structures will range in height from 8 feet to 18 feet. They will be constructed jig-saw fashion from notched quarter inch plywood. The form's surfaces will be painted or covered in various ways with reflective enamel or lacquer.

The class is working on this project in four groups and the credit for the modular shape, total structure, surface color, wood cutting, painting, and construction is to be shared among the group members.

The group leaders and members are as follows: 1) Denny Osthus, Paul Niemczyk, Carol North, and Pam Perin. 2) Bruce Wallace, Maureen Harold, Neil Lemoine, and Linda Welsh. 3) Gary Bueler, Ramona Darrah, Sissel Feroy, and Brian Kasen. 4) Jerry Bates, Susan Aarkus, Dick Bilodeau, Jan Brown, and Dex Hankel.

Final preparations are being made for the Festival's climax, the art preview and auction. Works to be sold at the auction, June 7th are currently arriving from throughout the state.

Represented thus far are Redmond High School by Mike Bathum, Auburn H.S. by Cal Jones, Kentridge by Wes Sonenberg, and Seattle Pacific College by Peggy Brunton. Also, works by GRCC's creative arts faculty Rex Waldron, Margret Von Wrangel, Robert Short and Bernie Blea.

An invitational preview of the art show will be held June 6th at 8:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre on GRCC's campus. The auction will be at 8 p.m. the following day although works may be previewed room 12 noon to 6:30 p.m. prior to the auction. Everyone Is Invited To Attend.

Letter Writers Criticize Banning School Press

Dear Editor:

As Student Body President I would like to apologize for the ejection of your reporter on May 14. A pattern that excludes the press from reporting all the activities of the elected officials of the ASGRCC should not be allowed to continue. Secret meetings and secret votes are not in keeping with the democratic principles I would like to see continue on this campus.

Dan Hunt

To The Editor:

It has been brought to my attention that the Current's representative to the senate meeting of Wednesday, May 14, was physically and forcefully ejected.

I want to state most emphatically that this action of my student government body was very irresponsible, crude, and downright disrespectful to the institution, and to the student body itself.

My confidence and aspirations in my elected representatives had been seriously shaken. In fact, I am damned mad.

What makes this whole incident more distasteful and disrespectful was the fact that a motion to make an unequivocal apology has been outvoted by these bigots, who are too proud to say, "we're sorry."

I seriously trust that a recurrence of this type of behavior is not envisioned as likely. My personal apology goes out to that abused press representative, and a very strong warning to MY representatives: "Be the responsible individuals I elected you to be."

Young Republicans Seek New Members

Dear Students:

In recent years, a new political awareness has been manifested on college campuses. Young people are trying to find solution to the problems of today and to realize the problems of tomorrow, and are becoming more active in world politics.

This new political activism has resulted in the development of the "New Left" — a small but vocal minority of campus extremists who claim to represent the majority of college students.

At the same time, however, America is witnessing the dynamic expansion of another political force which does speak for the majority of college students, the College Young Republicans. Today there are more than 150,000 College Young Republicans on over 900 campuses across the country, making College Republicans the largest single political force on the American campus scene.

The basic job of the College Young Republican is to be an effective instrument for good government. Probably nothing influences our present and future more than does good or bad government. One out of three dollars that the average American earns goes to the government-when you are active you protect your investment and your future.

Protect your investment. Join the Green River Young Republicans.

Sincerely,
Patricia Blome
Young Republicans' President
Dan Iverson
Young Republicans' Vice-President

Student Needs Help

To The Editor:

I have some information that might be of some interest. It concerns a student of Green River Community College. The student is my brother-in-law, Joseph "Joe" Benetin, age 18.

He is now in the University Hospital in Seattle, after the collapse of both kidneys. He has been in the hospital since the first of April, undergoing numerous tests and now using the kidney machine. It appears that he may be on the kidney machine the rest of his life.

I am sure he and his family would be very grateful for any financial help the students would care to give. Also, if any of Joes' classmates could send him cards, it would help cheer him and pass the time.

HOSPITAL ADDRESS: Joseph Benetin, Room 513 Bed 2 Wing 5N, University Hospital, 1951 N.E. Pacific, Seattle, Washington, 98105.

HOME ADDRESS: Joseph Benetin, 1307 13th Street N.E., Auburn, Washington 98002

Very truly yours,
Mrs. James R. Benetin

Fall Quarter Registration Follows New Format

Registration procedures for students returning to GRCC for Fall Quarter have undergone important changes, according to Registrar Richard Barclay.

He explained that it is very urgent that all students planning to return be made aware of the new procedure, which will be as follows: 1) the returning student will obtain a green card from the Registrar's office; 2) student will see his advisor before the date printed on the green card (June 15); 3) plan his schedule during that visit, and put it on both the green card and the green folder (card must have two alternate subjects listed); 4) student will then return signed card to business office with $10.00 prepayment for validation, then return signed card to the Registrar's Office before June 15, 1969. 5) About July 15, the student will receive a registration packet mailed to his home, and if this is mailed back before August 15 with a check for Fall Quarter fees, the student may consider himself registered for that quarter, unless notified otherwise at that time.

Mr. Barclay points out that this eliminates the old method by which the student was required to come in to the college and register during the summer.

Lee Ludlum Wins Major Scholarship

Lee Ludlum, a Green River Community College freshman majoring in science, has been granted a $2,600 scholarship to Harvey Mudd College in Pomona, Calif.

The small private school is part of the Claremont Colleges; Harvey Mudd is the science-oriented college in the group and is well known among scientists throughout the country, even though it has an enrollment of only 300 students.

Ludlum is not an ordinary college student by any means. He was graduated from high school in Los Angeles in 1962 and then spent four years in the Air Force at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. He moved to the Northwest in 1966 and enrolled in the college's drafting program last spring but switched to a transfer program in science in the fall.

Winter Quarter he enrolled in 23 credit hours of class — far beyond the normal load of 15 hours — and received straight-A's. "I just had to see if I could do it," he noted. "But now that I've done it, I really wouldn't want to try it again." At the beginning of this term, he was awarded the Science Division scholarship for Spring Quarter.

Harvey Mudd, though a science college, has a strong humanities program and Ludlum is seriously considering majoring in physics and minoring in philosophy. His scholarship is renewable for four years, depending on his scholarship standing. He also will receive aid from the G.I. Bill which will enable him to attend school without having to work part-time.

Lee's wife, Judy, is a secretary at Green River College.

DR. MELVIN LINDBLOOM (left) was honored two weeks ago by the Student Senate which passed a resolution asking the Board of Trustees to name the yet-to-be constructed Student Center after Dr. Lindbloom. Making the presentation are Senators Norm Margullis and Tony Bressan. This is the picture that didn't run on the front page last week, but Editor Muriel Furney decided to run the photo this week in spite of the fact the Senate voted not to apologize to Current reporter Matilda Black for ejecting her from the Senate meeting where the resolution was passed. A better picture of the student senators was available but the photographer couldn't seem to find it.

Geographers Meet At Green River

Geographers from Green River and Highline Colleges hosted the first meeting of the Washington State Association of Community College Geographers here on the GRCC campus last Saturday, May 24.

Geography Instructor Rawhide Papritz from Green River, and Geography Instructor Don Vollbracht of Highline Community College organized the meeting, and besides representatives from their respective schools, also in attendance were representatives from Western Washington State College, Central Washington State College, and Eastern Washington State College.

Discussions were held as to the primary needs for forming such an organization, and the group also discussed several other important objectives to be gained, including better communications among the various college geography groups, and ways to understand each other's programs more easily.

Also talked about were ways that the group could help promote better geography courses in the state, and ways to correlate geography courses offered in the two-year school with those of the four-year school.

One portion of the meeting was devoted to innovations in geography teaching introduced throughout the state.

In this category, Mr. Papritz discussed his projected multi-discipline field course which he is now organizing, and in which he expects to participate during the forthcoming school year, and explained its objectives.

He explained that the course will be worth 15 credits, and will provide the student with various in-depth studies in subjects such as regional geography, arts and crafts, and the cultural anthropology of Mexico, as seen in such places as the Aztec-Mayan culture areas. The course is intended to provide historical background as well as give the student an integrated, more natural over-view and appreciation of Mexico, past, present and future. His explanation was met with enthusiasm on the part of the other geographers.

Other innovations brought up included: a "Planning In Urban Affairs" open-classroom course at Eastern Washington State College; a "cluster-college" being developed at Western Washington State College for environmental study; and also at Eastern, a mobile multiple-resource field station, to be used for field study.

In closing their first meeting, the newly formed geographers' group decided it would be of real value to hold quarterly meetings at various community colleges throughout the state, with special themes to be discussed at each meeting.

GRCC Debate Club Planned Next Year

Nest year's GRCC forensic team is on the road. All forensic areas including debate, expository speaking, persuasive speaking, and interpretive reading are being considered for next year's program. Anyone interested in a scholarship may contact English Instructor Bob Casad in the HS Office Building for further information.

PARACHUTE CLUB TO BE FORMED ON GREEN RIVER COLLEGE CAMPUS

A Parachute Jump Club is now being formed on campus, because of the interest already shown by students and faculty.

Attempts are under way to sign up enough interested members to form a nucleus group before the end of Spring Quarter, and these persons can then make plans for the club, in order for it to become more active during the coming 1969-70 school year.

Geography Instructor Rawhide Papritz, who is an experienced parachutist, will provide basic training in the rudiments necessary for successful parachute-jumping. He emphasizes that this will not be a sky-diving club, "static-line jumping only will be learned and practiced."

Mr. Papritz points out that this is an opportunity for those on campus who have always wanted to make at least one jump to make that jump at nominal cost, and in the safest way possible.

He also adds, "until one has actually had an experience of this type, it is hard to imagine the peacefulness of drifting high in the heavens, oscillating back and forth in the gentle breeze, really an indescribable and unforgettable experience."

Everyone interested is urged to sign up immediately in the Lower Lounge ASB Office, or to contact Mr. Papritz, Mike Herold or Dave Latimer.

Merifield to Teach Special Ed Class

William Merifield of Green River is teaching a course, Education 441 — Educational Diagnostic Procedures for Central Washington State College at Elmhurst School in Tacoma. The class consists of Tacoma "Headstart" teachers and special education personnel for the Tacoma School District.

Merifield is using a test of his own design, which is both a screening device and teaching technique.

A text, which will be used as a manual and curriculum guide, is now being finalized and will be available for early publication.

Several school districts in addition to Tacoma have used the test and have found it helpful in problems of learning and educational diagnosis.

COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE DISCUSSES SCHOOL MATTERS

The Communications in Education Committee held its third meeting for Spring Quarter on Friday, May 23. Those students and members of the faculty participating in the discussion of student government policies and activities, class attendance, grading and curriculum were: Brian Murray, David Svendsen, Cheri Hawkins, Joe Bran, Susan Schulte, Gayle Rickle, Mr. Barnard, Mr. Casad and Mr. Mowrer.

One more meeting may be held before the end of this quarter. Returning students on the committee hope to continue with discussions next year. Anyone interested in more information may contact Bruce Butcher, Susan Schulte, or Mr. Dave Mowrer in (or around) the HS Office building.

Green River Students Help Tutor Indians

Since November 1, 1968, the Auburn School District has been conducting an Indian Study Hall from 6-7:30 p.m., on Monday and Thursday nights at Olympic Junior High School. The program is run for the benefit of children, ages pre-school through high school, from the Muckleshoot Indian Reservation.

The objectives of the study hall according to Mr. Malcolm Greene, program director, are twofold: 1) to open up and encourage better communication between the Indian and white community and 2) to provide help and encouragement for the Indian students with their studies on an individual and small group basis.

The 40-70 students involved travel between the reservation and the school for each study hall session via an Auburn School District bus. Upon their arrival they are divided according to age and sex and assigned to a room to work on their studies. Tutors help with any special problems and encourage completion of home work assignments. Students with no special problems work on dittoed assignments or review work provided by the student teachers. Students also work on supplementary projects such as artwork, viewing instructive films or Indian bead work, taught by an Indian volunteer tutor.

The second half of the session is a period of recreation conducted in the gymnasium or, weather permitting, out of doors. Here students and tutors join in games of basketball, badminton, volleyball, dodgeball, tag and various small group games. The personnel of the study hall consists of both paid and volunteer workers. Paid personnel are Director, Malcolm Greene; Counselor from Terminal Park Elementary School in Auburn, Assistant Director, Jerry McLoughlin; sixth grade teacher at Terminal Park, and Auburn High School student, Gail LaClarie.

Working as tutors on a volunteer basis are: Mary Williams, teaching bead work, and several Enumclaw High School, Auburn High School and Green River Community College students.

Enumclaw High School volunteer workers for this year are: Instructor Mike Lamer, and students Don Sandnes and David Anderson.

Auburn High School volunteer workers for this year are as follows: Jean Allen, Paul Arms, Jim Dick, Bonnie Emberry, Zena George, Laurie Hollowell, Lynn Hollowell, Pat Norikane, Liz Parker, and Julia Pommert.

Green River Community College volunteers are: Andy Bloom, Don Ford, Wayne Funk, Pat Johnson, and J. Burgett.

Private individuals assisting are: Allan Keimig and Dolly Anderson.

Mr. Gene listed the strong and weak features of the present program. On the positive side, he said, "The program has helped and encouraged many students to do better in school and given them the incentive to stay in school. It has shown the Indian youth that white people are interested in helping them and has acquainted a segment of the white community with the needs and problems of the Indian community."

The negative aspects of the program are as follows: A lack of communication between students' regular teachers and study hall personnel makes it hard to determine what sort of instruction would be most beneficial to the students who don't bring special homework problems to the session; also, a lack of communication between the parents of Indian youth and the program directors.

Mr. Greene said some would also consider the lack of structure in the study sessions as a weakness, but he and Mr. McLoughlin have observed that students work better and are more co-operative in a relaxed and casual atmosphere.

Instrumental in procuring funds that could be allotted for this program is Auburn School's Administrative Assistant and Director of Federal Funds, former principal of Auburn High School, Claud Hostetter.

The monies for the Indian Study Hall Program come from the Elementary and Secondary Education Acts (ESEA). Under Title No. 1 of the ESEA, school districts are allowed grants in an amount depending on the number or percentage of underprivileged children in families within the district. The aim in developing such a program as the Indian Study Hall is, Mr. Hostetter said, to help the Indian youth to help themselves so they will be better equipped to contribute to developing their own future and that of their fellow men.

Mr. Greene listed the strong and weak features of the present program. On the positive side, he said, "The program has helped and encouraged many students to do better in school and given them the incentive to stay in school. It has shown the Indian youth that white people are interested in helping them and has acquainted a segment of the white community with the needs and problems of the Indian community."

Intensified German Class Scheduled Summer Quarter

Green River is offering students a chance to complete an entire year of language in one quarter this summer.

Rainier Dirks will teach a special class in German which will meet daily for eight weeks, beginning June 19, from 8 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. The intensified study of German will be good for 15 college credits and is even open to high school students who have completed two years of high school German.

The class is German 201-202-203 — the second year of college German. Those students who have already completed a year of college German can finish up their two-year requirement in one summer of study. Because the program is so intensified, that one class will be all the student is allowed to take, however.

The student who plans to major in languages and already has two years of high school German can complete his two years of college German before he even starts his college program by taking the course this summer, Dirks pointed out.

Registration for summer classes will be Wednesday, June 18, with classes scheduled to begin the next day.

Next Week Planned For Early Summer Registration

Early summer quarter registration will be held this week, on June 2, 3 and 4, or Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Registrar Richard Barclay, and will be open to all students currently enrolled at GRCC.

Mr. Barclay advises that students registering should have with them their green registration folder containing a list of their summer class choices, as well as the signature of their advisor or counselor. The student must also plan to pay all summer quarter fees at this time.

The student could "kill two birds with one stone," says Mr. Barclay, by planning both his summer and fall class schedules with his advisor during the same visit.

Also, if this early registration time is not convenient for the enrolled student, Mr. Barclay explains that there will be a regular enrollment period for everyone on June 18.

Middle East Crisis Solved At Model United Nations Conference

The 1969 college Model United Nations was held at Fresno State College in Fresno, Calif., on May 7, 8, 9 and 10. Seven Green River Community College students attended as delegates from Israel.

Brian Murray, Ambassador; Mike Freidman, Security Council Representative; Chris Goodman, Delegate to the First Committee; Cliff Frazier, Delegate to the Second Committee; George Murray, Delegate to the Third Committee; Bruce Stendel, Delegate to the Special Committee on Politics; and Pauletta Brooks as an alternate Delegate.

Model United Nations are governed by rules similar to the actual functioning of the United Nations in New York City. The M.U.N. sessions adhere more closely to governing rules in order to complete their projects within the allotted time.

All resolutions and actions approved by the M.U.N. are being compiled into a report to be forwarded to the U.N. for their study; this is an annual practice.

Mike Freidman is an Israeli national studying at G.R.C.C. The negotiations performed by Mike were with a Jordanian national, also a student in the United States.

An additional report is being prepared concerning the entire proceedings and exact procedures by Mike for his government and the Israel U.N. Ambassador.

Ideas and procedures evolving from M.U.N. sessions have been utilized in the past by the parent body.

Mr. Orval Hansen, G.R.C.C. librarian, and Mr. John Barnard, Political Science instructor, accompanied the group to Fresno.

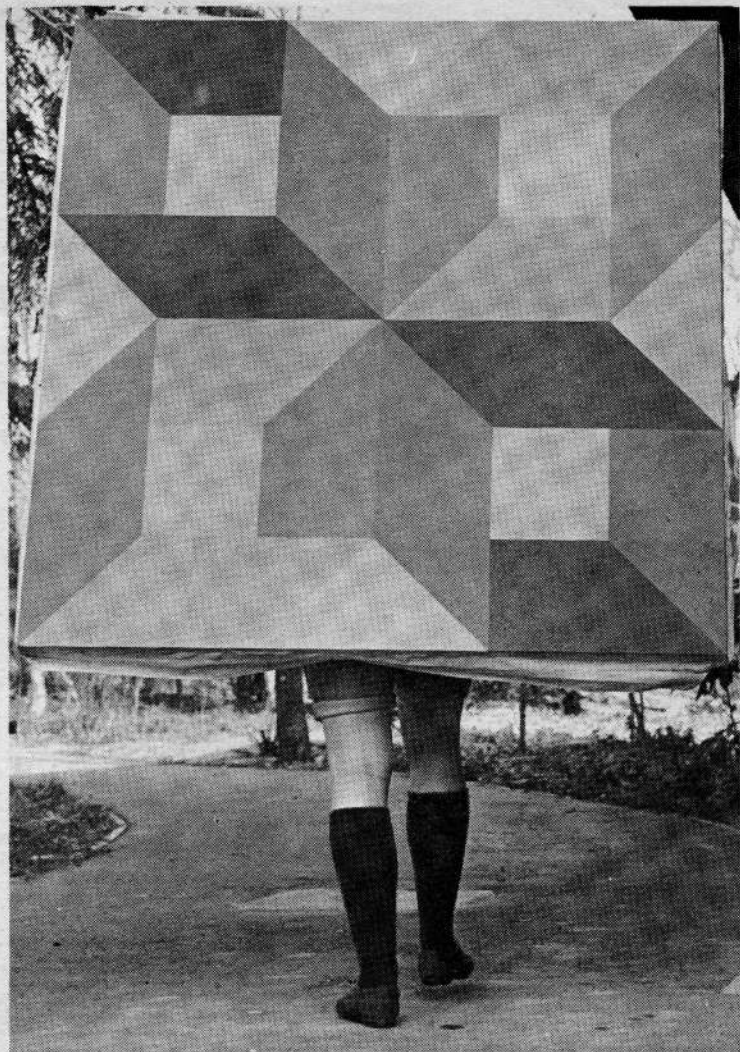

The GRCC students, as Israel Representatives, concerned themselves in the Security Council with the refugee problem which exists in the Middle East today. This M.U.N. negotiated until they were able to bring before the Security Council a resolution which stipulates: only the directly involved parties in the refugee problem of the United Arab Republic and Israel conflict shall sit in conference together to negotiate the plans to provide subsistence, education and relocation of refugees. The U. N. Security Council will assist the negotiating powers with such assistance as requested. The resolution was voted upon and passed. This is a much sought after objective in the actual U.N.

PLEASE NOTE: ALL GRADES ARE DUE IN MR. BARCLAY'S OFFICE BEFORE 5 P.M., JUNE 16, 1969.

Campus Traffic Court Shows Parking Needs

"A total of 5,000 cars enter the four GRCC campus parking lot entrances between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m.," according to Civil Engineering Instructor Neil Uhlman, "yet there are only 1100 spaces on campus for parking."

This surprising entrance statistic was arrived at by Mr. Uhlman's second year Civil Engineering Technician Class, who, under his guidance, recently conducted a study of traffic conditions on campus.

This was accomplished by counting all cars entering and exiting the campus, by means of several traffic counting devices

Librarian Named To West Coast College Association

ORVAL HANSEN

Orval Hansen, librarian at Green River Community College, has been named vice-president of the College Association for Public Events and Services (CAPES), a "block booking" organization serving the entire West Coast.

Hansen, faculty adviser to the college's Forums Committee which books talent and speakers on the campus, has been serving as a member of the Pacific Northwest Board of CAPES.

CAPES, which books campus speakers and entertainers, signs contracts with several colleges within an area for a speaker — thus providing campus guests of national and international reputation at reduced costs. The budget runs close to $310,000 a year, but the talent represented would cost considerably more than that when booked independently, Hansen said.

In a reorganization of CAPES, three regions were formed. The Pacific Northwest region will include Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, and British Columbia and Alaska, if they choose to take part. Hansen is vice-president of that region. The other regions are California North and California South (which includes Arizona.)

Three community college educators from the Northwest were elected as at-large representatives to the CAPES Executive Committee. They are Bob Walters of Seattle Community, Nile Williams from Lane Community College in Eugene, Oregon, and Paula Eiseman of Tacoma Community College.

The elections took place at the annual meeting of CAPES in San Francisco.

Library Enlarging Tapes and Test File

By Gay Erlenborn

A test file is recently being built up in the Holman Library in response to numerous student requests. Presently there are tests to represent the following courses: library science, mathematics 101, Sociology 110, English Problems, Psychology 100, and Economics 200 — lecture and reading notes. Any student may request the test file at the main desk. He will find them listed alphabetically by course name.

Librarian Ed Bush feels establishing the test file will be a valid and valuable move based on the premise that tests are a teaching tool. "However," Mr. Bush said, "if a teacher's theory of testing is for reward or punishment he probably shouldn't give his tests out."

Also on file in GRCC's library are several tape series. These are available at the main desk. After the student selects a tape he wishes to hear, it is set up on a transmitter. He will be issued a receiver and headphones which will pick up the tape in a special area of the library where the transmitter's antenna is located.

Tape topics include: The Spanish, French and German Language Series, Music Appreciation, Humanities, Occupational Therapy, Review of Chemistry Problems 140 and 150, Campus Guest Artist Lecture series, Classical Music — a Beethoven Series and several other major symphonies, and Jazz.

UPS-GRCC Institute Business Program

University of Puget Sound has opened the doors to business majors of junior standing from Green River. Under the new "Business Interim" program students of junior status, recommended by the business faculty of GRCC, will be given credit and placing, according to the level of classes taken, in the UPS business program.

Coming concurrently with UPS's new 4-1-4 program of scheduling, the "Interim" offers an entirely new concept of study to the business student. According to Mr. Howard Fryett, chairman of Green River Business Division, students at UPS would spend one semester taking classes and another working in a related field. Traditional programs of study, as the one here at GRCC, stipulate that the student work outside of and in addition to his classes.

LEA HILL first and second graders took over the college gym last Friday and demonstrated for more than an hour while parents and college students looked on.

Demonstrators Take Over Green River College Gym

Student demonstrators, armed with hula-hoops, jump ropes, balls, music, and even a maypole, took over the Green River gymnasium Friday afternoon.

The student demonstrators were members of Mrs. Nancy Farness P. E. 265 class, called "Low Organized Games." The students for the past quarter have been working with youngsters at nearby Lea Hill Elementary School and Friday's demonstration is the final touch to the course.

All the first and second graders in the school — 185 in all — were to be on hand to participate in the program. The purpose of the program was to illustrate the importance of a firm physical fitness program in the elementary school. The demonstration presented some basic rhythmic activities, routines, and exercises that make P. E. for elementary children fun.

Parents were invited to the program which is entitled, "Hey, Mom, Look!"

ART BINNIE TO HEAD COMMISSION

The announcement was made by J. Robert Long, secretary-treasurer of the Council, acting in behalf of John Maxey, chairman of the Council.

Conversational French Offered This Summer

A class designed to help travelers with some basic and necessary phrases in French will be offered this summer at Green River Community College.

French 100 will be taught Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9:30 p.m. at the college with five college credits offered.

The course also could be valuable to those who plan to eventually complete university foreign language requirements, according to Mrs. Joyce Harbel, instructor for the class. It is a class that may act as a good introductory course to a later, more formal study of the language.

Summer school registration is scheduled Wednesday, June 18, with classes starting Thursday, June 19.

Outdoorsman Rawhide Papritz Smoke Jumps, Works in Parks During Summer Vacations

GAY ERLBORN

A seventh child born under the influence of the planet Mars in the sign of Scorpio is fated (according to those who heed the so-called pseudo-science, Astrology) to become an adventure-seeking natural man.

Such a man is Rawhide C. Papritz, instructor of geography and Latin American history, smoke jumper and park ranger; a man of action.

Originally from Mukilteo, Washington, Mr. Papritz attended Everett Junior College. He earned his BA in education at Western Washington State University in Bellingham, and a master's degree in physical geography at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Rawhide is married and is the father of two young sons.

He has worked as an elementary school teacher for a year and a half in Mukilteo and as an instructor of geography at Louisiana State University in New Orleans for two years. But a yearning for the Pacific Northwest and dissatisfaction with the impersonally large classes he taught there brought Mr. Papritz to teach at GRCC.

IN BETWEEN COLLEGES and during summer vacations, outdoors-oriented Rawhide sought physical challenge and adventure. While working in Olympic National Park in 1958 he was stimulated by a bull session on the slopes of MOUNT OLYMPUS on the topic of smoke jumping. Rawhide applied with about 1600 other anxious young men to the jump training school in Missoula, Montana. He was one of 60 applicants accepted.

Jumping into an area with limited or no access armed with fire fighting weapons, a pulaski, lady shovel, and chain saw, requires ample amounts of both muscle and courage. The smoke jumper's job is to control fire. This is done by the removal of one of the elements in the fire reaction; the oxygen, the heat or the fuel.

A ground fire (burning underbrush) is controlled basically then in one of three ways: 1) removal of fuel by digging a hand line. 2) removal of heat of combustion by covering with dirt or 3) removal of oxygen by smothering with any noncombustible material. (i.e., sand, dirt, chemical retardant)

The fire fighters must surround the fire; its head(s), sides and back when a change of wind is possible. Working long shifts under adverse conditions in the face of intense heat and unfamiliar terrain, far from even pathways to civilization, the smoke jumper earns his wage. In the event that a fire cannot be stopped, the crew is on its own to escape its blazing destructive path.

RAWHIDE PAPRITZ has helped suppress approximately 200 fires. Each situation has presented him with a unique set of conditions in which his solution was to be fire control. Sometimes the man wins, sometimes he loses, but his job is always to work in relation to the natural environment using it whenever possible to his advantage.

After the required two years of experience he applied to the U. S. Forest Service. The summers of 1960-62 he worked in Yosemite National Park in California patrolling the Sierra back country, training fire crews and fighting forest fires.

Out of the hot into the tropical heat, Rawhide spent the summer of '63 on a field trip through Mexico and Central America collecting slides and experiences. His collection of slides adds color and visual appreciation and understanding to the black and white text book approach to teaching geography.

The summer of '64 Rawhide smoke-jumped again in Montana. The summer of '67 lured him to Alaska where he headed crews of Wskimos across the tundra fighting the inevitable fires for the U. S. Bureau of Land Management. Some highlights of experiences include: making two jumps before getting into one fire. His diagonal harness caught on the outside of the plane. He was hauled back in and jumped again. Just for sport he and some other men chased down a Grizzly bear with a C-46 cargo transport plane.

RAWHIDE'S CHIEF CONCERN seems to be taking full advantage of nature. In his geography classes, he strives to impart understanding and appreciation for the environment to his students. He feels man should value his simple natural freedom. He should strive to exist next to nature not apart from it or in spite of it.

This summer Rawhide will work as Park Ranger in Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming. His job will be in the protection division.

"I'm assigned to protect the people from the animals, the animals from the people and the people from each other."

He will be supervising rafting activities on the headwaters of the Snake River, standing by as lifeguard if necessary. Rawhide is also trained in rock climbing which he considers a strenuous, non-sporting activity useful in mountain rescue work.

In his leisure time, Rawhide tackles a new challenge - the water. In his kayak he has traveled on the Green River, in the Gulf of Mexico, in the Pacific Ocean, in the swamps of Louisiana, in the Blackfoot River in Missoula and after this summer, in the Snake River.

CURRENTLY INSTRUCTORS Papritz, Rex Waldron and Jerry Hedlund are planning a Field Course Study in Mexico for spring quarter 1970. The development of this course is still in the tentative stages but would include regional geography of Mexico, anthropology of ancient and contemporary Mexican Indian groups, and art history and handicrafts.

Some 75 to 100 students would be eligible to take the course for about four weeks and 15 hours of credit. The courses would be taught on location. (i.e., among Mayan ruins on the Yucatan, at the foot of a "semi-active" volcano, and at the side of a resident of Oaxaca weaving on an ancient loom.) If the course plans are accepted GRCC students will be offered a rare educational opportunity.

Whether or not the life of Rawhide Papritz was charted by the stars at the moment of his birth is of no major consequence. The activities and the experiences of the man speak of his character. He is a fortunate man who is living as a valuable contributing member of society without becoming enslaved by its materials or institutions. He enjoys exchange with society and follows his natural bent to commune with the great outdoors.

Gator Thinclads Fail To Place at State

A whole season of strenuous effort went for naught in the state meet last weekend at the University of Washington when none of Green River's entries in the meet managed to place in the championship finals held on Saturday.

The outcome was a discouraging one for a Gator team that, despite injuries and misfortunes throughout the season, had entered the meet with high hopes of doing well.

But the Gator's only entries to reach the finals were the 440 and mile relay teams. The 440 relay team of Don Goddard, Bob Tcker, Gary Paxton, and George Casanova clocked in at :43.3 to qualify and the mile relay team of Rick Kinsley, Norm Snodgrass, Tucker and Casanova made it to the finals by coming in at 3:23.9 in the Friday night preliminaries.

But neither team could improve on their timing and, as a result, failed to place on Saturday.

The Gators downfall carried over into the 880 where Snodgrass, after finishing first in the division meet two weeks ago, failed to qualify and in the broad jump where Paxton was unable to get into the finals.

Conspicuously missing from the meet for the Gators were freshmen Brad Moore, standout in the pole vault who lost out in the division meet last week after setting a school record earlier in the season, and Mike Behrbaum, the Gator's all-around performer who is still recovering from an operation.

Nobody was missing from Highline's team, which was unfortunate for the opposition, as the Thunderbirds pulled away to edge out favored Spokane for the state title. The T-Birds racked up a total of 108 points to Spokane's 99. Shoreline, state titlists for the past three years, came in third with a total of 77 points.

Three state records were set in the meet. Willie Venable of Highline set a mark in the long jump with a leap of 23 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Spokane's mile relay team came in at a record setting 3:18.3 time on Friday, clipping the old mark by four-tenths of a second and the 440 relay team, also from Spokane, set a record by finishing in 41.2 seconds.

Birchler Tops Home Run Race

Desimore Leads Hitters In Slow-Pitch Circuit

After several weeks of slow-pitch softball, the averages show the top batters still above .500.

Joe Desimore of the Nailbenders heads the list of top hitters with a .750 average, nine hits in 12 trips to the plate.

After a strong start Jack Johnson of the Rec Club dropped from second to fourth in the top hitters.

Big Dale Birchler of the Flying Tigers leads in home runs with seven.

Summer Baseball Team Organized by Johnson

A post-high school summer baseball team is being organized in the Green River Valley by Jack Johnson, teacher, coach, and referee.

Johnson, an instructor at Green River, is well-known to most area sports fans since he is a former professional baseball player, he referees several Northwest basketball games, and is a football referee in the Pacific Athletic Conference.

He said that the Green River Valley team will enter a Stan Musial baseball league — the Southwest Baseball League — which includes teams from the Seattle-Tacoma area.

But a sponsor is needed. Johnson's team won its first game — a non-league affair at McNeill Island Saturday — hoping that some industry or business from the Valley will come forward as a sponsor next week.

Any interested parties should contact Jack Johnson at Green River College, TE 3-9111 or UL 4-0780, extension 273 or 278.

In 1955 Johnson played on a team from the Northwest that won the national championship. The Cheney Studs of Tacoma won the nationals one year.

Several players from Green River's baseball team plan to try out for the club, said Johnson. Ron Toschi, a pitcher on the Green River team, will be the assistant coach.

GATORS FINISH SECOND

Although one could hardly call it a case of sour grapes, that's exactly what Green River's baseball team wished it were as, for the second straight year, Coach Marv Nelson's diamond crew is going to have to settle for a second place finish in the northern division behind Shoreline.

As was the case last year, the Gators entered this year's race with high aspirations of shoving Shoreline off the top step on the northern ladder, a spot that the Samauri have loftily been sitting on the past three years.

And, as was the case last year, the Gators were once again thwarted in their attempts when they lost both ends of a double-header to Shoreline in the season finale.

The results left the Gators with a final league record of 11-7 and an overall slate of 13-11.

As a team, the Gators batting average for the season was only .237. None of the Gators batted over .300 with the best average among the starters belonging to Bill Bakamus at .283. Ron Lee was close behind, hitting at a .282 clip.

Gary LaBrie led the team in the RBI department with a total of 12, followed by Bayless' nine.

Power was not exactly the key to the Gators success either, as the team managed to only get two home runs, one by LaBrie and the other by Bayless. Grady Mathews picked up three doubles along the way while Bayless led the team in triples with two.

A major factor in the Gator's success came in the stolen base department, where the thieving Gators got away with 31 — a rather large, if not outlandish, figure by any team's standards. Russ Knights led the Gators in thefts with a grand total of 11. Ken Ghorley, Dave Wohlver and LaBrie all had four.

Surprisingly enough, pitching proved to be the team's strongest point. With Randy Hatfield and Chuck Possenti leading the way, Gator pitchers combined to give up an average ERA of only 2.54. Hatfield, returnee from last year's team, turned in another fine season, running up a 6-1 record with an excellent 1.65 ERA. Hatfield struck out almost a batter per inning, fanning 51 in 53 innings of work.

Chuck Possenti turned in an equally impressive performance for the Gators, posting a 4-2 record and a 1.72 ERA. In 34 innings of pitching Possenti left 30 batters biting the dust while walking only 12.
