'Cinderella,' Directors Schedule Appearance in Library Next Week

"This is a fairy story - the story of Cinderella and the Four Ugly Corporation Directors. Once upon a time, Cinderella went down to Wall Street. Not in a Golden coach drawn by six white horses, but in the I.R.T. subway."

Thus starts this year's production entitled "The Solid Gold Cadillac." Performance dates are May 18, 19 and 20 with a dress rehearsal slated for May 17. Again this year the play will be presented in the library. All night performances will start at 8 p.m. and the dress rehearsal will begin at 4 p.m.

The plot revolves around a little old lady, portrayed by Kathy Larrabee, who upsets the operation of an entire company. By the play's conclusion she not only has brought back the ex-chairman from Washington, D.C., but she ends up in control of the company.

Other featured members of the cast include: John Gaither, Danny Zivanich, Doyle Burke, Bob Campbell, Kathie Pekie, Jim Meyer, Sandy Lumberg, Norm Proctor, Cheryl Messler, Marilee Kronkright, Margaret Aldrich, Dave Feden, John Conrad, and Jo'lea Hopp.

Of the cast, under the direction of Mr. Ed Eaton, Danny Zivanich, John Gaither, and John Conrad are veterans of last year's production "Twelve Angry Men."

This year's student director is Mary Thomas. Assisting Miss Thomas are: Bobbie McCarty, prompter; Sandy Nideck, tickets; Jennifer Hunt, publicity; and Bruce Whitmore, photography.

Tickets are available at the front desk from Miss Nideck. Admission is $1: adults, $.50; children, and students with GRCC student body cards free.

Since only 120 spaces are available for each performance, students are urged to make advance reservations to insure tickets on the desired night.

Pat Holden and Kathy Pekie rehearse a scene in "Solid Gold Cadillac."

G.R. Clubs Beautify Campus

Campus beautification day at Green River, sponsored by the management club, will be held May 15, this coming Monday. Weeding around the buildings, trail cleaning in the woods, and hand-railing a 100 foot log are the main jobs to be handled by the students.

All clubs are asked to take part in the general clean up all over campus according to management president Doug Evanson. The club that is voted to have done the most work will receive the Green River trophy which was won last year by the nurses and Circle K.

For fun there will be a canoe race at noon. It will be held at the ditch west of the south parking lot. Any clubs or representatives of the freshman or sophomore class may enter the canoe race.

The canoes can be no more than 12 inches long, and penalties will be given for getting caught on the rocks or "rapids" in the ditch.

The prizes are now being selected for the winners.

Congratulations Given To New ASB Officers

Congratulations, Roger, and the rest of the officers elected Monday. It is with a great amount of anticipation, pride, and support that the students here at Green River can offer their congratulations.

We can take pride in the selection of these people. They have proved themselves in the past with their impressive records of service, personality, and actions. As we hopefully anticipate the future, especially the year 1968, it will be you, the student body officers, who will have the responsibility to see to it that the student government and functions at Green River are run smoothly and efficiently.

We have supported each candidate who ran in his campaign and election. We know that those who were successful and were elected will all return this support in the successful operation of the government of the college. But they will also need our continuing esteem and loyalty in order to make Green River College the best ever. We must work and cooperate in our fullest with our new student body officers to travel the road to success and progress in the coming year.

For it will be only through cooperation, hard work, and confidence in our leaders that the students of Green River College can hope to bring out the best of leadership, service, and efficiency in the newly elected officers of the Associated Student Body of Green River College.

To Jim Meyer, and the other newly elected sophomore officers, heartiest congratulations are extended also. The freshman class at Green River is eagerly anticipating a profitable and pleasant year next year under your leadership.

Editor Takes Time To Thank Rescuers

I am taking this opportunity to thank the students and faculty members who have greeted me and cheered me up since I have returned to college following my accident April 26.

I wish I knew how to express the deeply sincere and humble thanks I have in my heart for those who cared for me while I was waiting for the ambulance that day. I guess the only thing I can say is THANK YOU.

To Dr. Lindbloom, especially, I extend my deepest thanks for being the first one to calm my nerves and call for help. You didn't even give me a chance to hollar "Help!" I just can't imagine how long I could have laid there in my car before someone came to help if Dr. Lindbloom hadn't seen me go over the bank.

To Richard Casterline and Jack Reynolds and the other two wonderful gentlemen who aided Dr. Lindbloom in pulling me out of the wreckage and carrying me up to the top of the hill, I also say thanks.

I am sincerely grateful for the lovely expressions of concern voiced by so many of the students here at the college. You're a great moral booster! I am also truly appreciative of the understanding of my instructors and the good will expressed by other faculty members. To the students responsible for the greeting in the form of a card I say thanks for the cheer. I needed that!

Once again, just thank you so very much for all EACH of you have done.

Heath Lectures Discuss Mathematics Influence

In co-operation with the Heath Tecna Corporation, the "Heath Lectures at Green River College" will be held Wednesday, May 17, at 1 p.m.

Participants will include Dr. A.T. Lonseth, chairman of the Department of Mathematics at Oregon State University; Mr. Louis Wildman, instructor of mathematics at Green River College; and the Reverend Father John Gretz, rector at St. James Episcopal Church in Kent.

SPEAKERS

Dr. Lonseth will speak on the role of mathematics as the language of science; Mr. Wildman will investigate the inter-tie between music and mathematics; and Fr. Gretz will speak on the influence of mathematics in religious thought.

"The lectures will not be limited to the art of discourse, but will draw upon the fine arts to communicate this central influence of our time," said Mr. Wildman. "Members of the college's art department have been asked to contribute works which may be in opposition or concord with this major influence of our time."

PERFORMANCES

The Seattle Symphonic Brass Ensemble will perform between each of the short lectures. The music has been chosen to reflect upon the classical affinity between music and mathematics. The program is scheduled to last approximately from 1 to 3 p.m. and the public is invited.

This is one of a number of events which the Green River faculty is presenting which shows the inter-relationship among the disciplines, thus unifying the college community. Furthermore, the Heath Lectures establish a tie between the college and the Green River Valley.

'Math Is Language'

By Al Reece

The May 17 mathematics-humanities symposium, concerning the influence of mathematics on our culture is the product of the combined efforts of the Heath Tecna Corporation of Kent and Green River College.

When questioned as to why the school is having such a symposium, Green River instructor Louis Wildman said, "First of all, the faculty is interested in establishing a meaningful tie between the community and the school. Second, we are in the golden age of mathematics."

Wildman concluded that it is his desire to "impress upon the students the importance of mathematics as a language of science" as well as a "beauty with which many associate only poetry and music" as well as "a way of thought."

Student Conference Next Week

Next week Green River students will attend the annual convention of the Washington Association of Community College Student Governments. This year's host school is Shoreline Community College. The meeting will begin May 18 and end May 20.

Representing Green River will be John Jones, Sandy Craig, Sherry Moon, Gerry Olson, Roger Sloan, Gary Gadow, DeEtte Pravitz, Georgina Nymen, Georgine Halte, and Mrs. Winnifred Vincent. Mike Seeny will also attend but not as a member of the Green River delegation.

Freshman Class Sponsors Car Rally

Green River's first car rally, sponsored by the freshman class, is slated to take place this Sunday, May 14. The rally will begin at the upper lot of the college, and it will end there with the winner being the person coming the closest to the designated time limit as set by the judges.

All persons entering the car rally must register in the A.S.B. office in the Humanities, Social Science building by the end of today. It is scheduled to start at 12:30 p.m. and the last car is expected to return around 6 p.m. having completed the 150 mile course which normally takes approximately 3 hours.

ONLY ONE PASSENGER

There may be two and only two persons in each car entered in the rally. One of the persons in each car must be a Green River College student. Just before the start of the rally each car will be given a set of rules, instructions, and a map of the designated course.

There will be checkpoints along the way for any persons who might have trouble finding their way and for drivers to make sure they are on the right course.

PROPER EQUIPMENT

Each car entered must be equipped in order to meet any normal road emergency along the 150 - mile course. Judges will check each car before the rally for proper equipment. A spare tire is the most important extra equipment needed according to rally chairman, Sheryl Missler.

The time element is the deciding factor for the winning of the first, second, and third place trophies to be awarded. The course has been completely drawn out and checked.

SPEED UNIMPORTANT

Speed is unimportant to a degree in the rally, for it is not a "race" as such. Cars traveling the speed limit and obeying all signs such as stop and warning signs will find themselves coming in with the closest winning times.

The car rally is an endurance race and the driver of the car obeying the laws and all instructions given by the judges at the start of the race will be determined the winner of the rally providing his time is the closest to that set up by the judges.

According to Chairman Sheryl, all decisions of the judges are final.

Firm Wants Techs

Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of Livermore, California, will send two of their personnel to talk to GR students on Friday, May 12, about their firm.

They plan to give a presentation regarding activities and job opportunities at the laboratories which are a research subsidiary of the University of California. After the presentation they plan to conduct personal interviews with interested GR technician students.

Mrs. Brock, personnel supervisor for their laboratories, informed the college that their primary interest at this time was for graduating students from the Electronics and Mechanical-Engineering-Technician programs.

Mrs. Brock stated there is a serious shortage of people prepared for the technician occupations which support the professional engineers and scientists.

Choir Sings Spring Songs

The first annual Green River College Spring Concert and Art Show will be presented Friday, May 26, at 8 p.m. in the college library.

An "Op Art" display will be set up in the library for visitors to view before and after the concert. A film slide presentation on art will be presented at the intermission of the music program, under the direction of art instructor Rex Waldron.

The Green River Singers will present a varied program, featuring music of the periods: Alessandro Scarlatti's "Exultate Deo" from the Baroque Period; and Beethoven's "Elegy" from the Classic Viennese Period. Modern American selections including "Serenade in the Night," popular song from World War II years, a spiritual, "Rock a My Soul," in traditional "rock" rhythm, and a folk-blues "Go Way from My Window" will complete the large group presentations.

The vocal ensemble will sing the poignant "Spring Is Here" by Richard Rogers and a Renaissance madrigal by diLasso, "My Heart is Offered Still to You."

Mr. Ron Smith is the music director.

Although the program is slated to start at 8 p.m., college officials are urging those who plan to attend to come early enough to stroll around the campus while it is in full bloom.

Open Forum

Students, Faculty Express Viet Views

Tuesday, May 9, Green River students were invited to express their opinions on the war in Viet-Nam. The forum, sponsored by the Veterans Club, took place in the lower lounge and was attended by both students and faculty.

Mr. Wayne Luckman and Mr. Nigel Adams, members of the faculty, opened the discussion by presenting their opposing view points. Mr. Luckman, opposed to the war, stated that the United States became entangled in the war in 1951 by paying for 80 percent of the war debt incurred by the French. After this brief talk Mr. Adams then took the floor and presented reasons why the United States should stay in Viet-Nam.

WORK ILLS

He cited the Viet-Cong as seeking to work ills created in the change of Viet-Nam government. Mr. Adams also stated that the United States was protecting all South East Asia by being in Viet-Nam and that the United States was merely living up to its obligations as prescribed in the SEATO alliance.

The floor was then turned over to anyone who desired to speak.

ISSUE DISCUSSED

The issue was taken by both students and teachers. Those faculty members who questioned the Viet-Nam issue included Mr. Orville Hansen, Miss Geraldine Mertz, and Mr. Vern Loland.

Mr. Loland was very critical and stated that he was disillusioned by President Johnson. He based his disillusionment on the fact that during the election of 1964 Mr. Johnson had repeatedly stated that American boys would not go to Viet-Nam to fight an Asian boy's war.

Several adverse student opinions were also given. Some students, many ex-servicemen, stated that the United States should not be in Vietvisors had to leave. The lounge was still filled with students who wished to express their views.

The forum was an attempt to Nam. Other ex-servicemen also stated that the United States should, and rightfully so, stay in Viet-Nam to insure those people a government of their own choice.

The forum ended at two o'clock, but only because the faculty openly air opinions; other forums on other issues are in the planning and the success of this one will insure their happening.

The Current Undertow Mr. Very Obsolete Advises Seattle Council on Problems

By D. Z.

Many readers may have noticed that this column did not appear in the last issue of the Current. The reason for the absence was that the Undertow was in meeting with one of Seattle's most respected advisors to the City Council, Mr. Very Obsolete. A series of questions were posed to Mr. Obsolete and the interview follows.

Undertow: "What are your views on light shows?"

Obsolete: "From the beginning I have advised the Mayor and his boys to refuse these hideous and promiscuous shows to be presented. I have suggested that all blinking lights of any fashion be banned. This includes traffic lights, dome lights on police cars, lights at Christmas, and at hockey games.

Recent events suggest that Seattle should also sue somebody for this week's eclipse of the sun; this show was presented without any type of clearance and such flagrant disrespect for law should be severely punished."

Undertow: "Do you consider the hippies a threat to society?"

Obsolete: "Definitely. These people threaten the civilized society of Seattle by rocking the boat. They bring with them such absurd ideas as that they have a right to act the way they do because the Constitution says they do. This type of thinking threatens the very well-being of any politician. Why, if their ideas on individuality and freedom of thought and expression catch on, politicians may have to go honest and that would endanger our way of life."

Undertow: "What other actions have you advised the Council on?"

Obsolete: "I have aided the Council in their decision to ban bloodless bull fights, refuse to allow Leary to speak in a public place to a paying public, and countless other measures to insure the well-being of Seattleites."

Undertow: "Do you have any wide range solution to protect Seattle from the evils of the world?"

Obsolete: "Yes, I do. My plan would be to dig a canal from Lake Washington to the Sound, and from Lake Union to the Sound. The next step would be the purchase and installation of several drawbridges and strong portable walls. Once this was completed, any undesirables approaching Seattle could be prevented from entering the city simply by raising the drawbridge."

Undertow: "And you feel this would save Seattle?"

Obsolete: "Yes."

Undertow: "Well, your opinion is highly regarded in the Council and I hate to question your decisions - but what about airplanes?"

Obsolete: "Airplanes?! Don't be ridiculous, man will never fly. If God meant man to fly, he would have given him wings."

Undertow: "Er, yes - well, thank you and good-bye."

Governor's Decision Due Soon

Legislators Nominate Candidates for Board

Gov. Dan Evans will have a slate of eight names from which to select the new five-member board of trustees for Community College District 10 which includes Green River.

Four area legislators who reside within the Green River Community College District selected the eight nominees at a meeting Monday.

On the slate from which the governor will select five on May 18 are:

Auburn School District 408 — Dr. Richard A. Eidal, a physician; Rod Christianson, assistant business agent of Local 79 of the International Association of Machinists and a representative of the metal trades advisory council to Green River College.

Kent — Renton

Renton District 403 — Mike Lott, owner of Highlands Shopping Center; Hugh Mathews, subdistrict director of the United Steel Workers Union.

Kent District 415 — Dr. William Shaw, a physician; William F. Kennelly, vice president of quality control for Heath Tecna Corp.

Tahoma District 409 — Mrs. Leonard (Mirian) Sherman, 24629 S.E.

200th St., Maple Valley, a housewife. Enumclaw District 216 — Robert (Bud) Olson, editor of the Enumclaw Courier-Herald.

The slate was put together by Representatives Avery Garrett and Gary Grant of the 47th Legislative District, John Merrill of the 35th, and Norwood Cunningham of the 30th. Cunningham is a Republican; the others, Democrats.

Representatives of the five school boards involved last Tuesday night suggested a slate of 13 persons to the legislators for consideration as nominees.

The four legislators retained five of the names suggested by the school representatives and added three of their own choosing.

Provision for a local community college board was contained in the community college law enacted by the 40th Legislature.

College Hosts Cabinet

Last Friday Green River Community College was the host school for a state meeting of the Washington D.E.C.A. cabinet. The purpose of the meeting was for the newly elected state officers to acquaint themselves with each other and to plan next year's policies.

Attending the conference were President Dick Anderson from Highline; Vice-President Gary Ehler from Green River; Secretary Sandee Rogers from Green River, and Treasurer Ron Cooper from Highline. State advisers included Mr. Leroy McCartney, Mr. James Blue, Mr. Ed Hoginan, Mr. K. Otto Logan, Mr. Ralph Titchnell, and Mr. Al Mack.

Business included in the meeting were reports from the various colleges to the president, correspondence improvement between schools and newsletters. The officers were also informed about their specific jobs.

From the Exchanges

Industry Urges Better Communications Training

A number of members of Northwest Woods Products Clinic expressed to Professor John Nydegger their sympathetic concern for L-C's future as a liberal arts college. Their comments followed a speech titled: "The challenge of Individual Commitment" presided by Nydegger on April 18 at a meeting of the Joint Forest Products Research Society in Spokane.

"We'll teach new employees the technical aspects of wood processing," they said. "What we can't take time to teach them are the arts of communication. We need people who can express themselves orally, write concise, readable reports, and get along with others."

"These are the things a liberal arts college teaches; that's why colleges like L-C are valuable to us. All the technical knowledge in the world is no use to us if the employees can't put it down on paper in recognizable English."

(Excerpt from "Teimustaats," Lewis-Clark College).

RAY NEEDHAM

Dean Travels To St. Paul

Mr. Ray Needham, Green River College Dean of Instruction, recently attended the National Industrial Conference held at St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. Needham was among four representatives sent from the state of Washington to this conference.

Mr. Needham worked on the committee that dealt with new trends in trades and industry. The purpose of the conference was to acquaint these representatives with new trends in industrial teaching in the United States including new curriculum, teacher education, and new programs after which recommendations made were to be sent to the National Office.

Delegates Return From Meeting

The Model United Nations class returned Saturday, April 29, from its Far West convention in Portland, Oregon.

While in Portland, the delegation from GRCC, consisting of Larry Knipshield (Chairman), Ellen Stendal, John Jones, Mary Heindel, Reilly Ziegler, Joan Fujimura, Ken Malindore, Mike Butler and Mr. Hanson (advisor), spent most of its time (as the others did) going to caucus meetings, committee meetings, and the General Assembly.

Dr. Fohn Chairs Meeting

Dr. Edward Fohn will be chairman of one of the sections of the second Western Regional meeting of the Two-Year College Chemistry Conference at Columbia Basin College in Richland June 16-17. The meeting is in conjunction with the Pacific Northwest regional meeting of the American Chemical Society.

The Two-Year College Chemistry Conferences feature section meetings devoted to various areas of the chemistry curriculum. Dr. Fohn will chair a session concerning the Second-year Chemistry Courses for Science and Engineering Majors in the Two-Year College.

This section is designated to provide an opportunity to exchange experiences in improving and modernizing such chemistry courses. Participants will attempt to identify and discuss problems related to those chemistry courses commonly taken in the second year of college and after general chemistry.

The session will focus on programs and problems unique to two-year colleges, or if not unique, of importance.

Social Studies Conference Today

Three members of the Social Science division of Green River Community College are going to attend a history conference at Bellingham May 12-13. Attending the state-wide meeting of college history teachers will be Dr. Emyln Jones, Nigel Adams, and John Hanscom.

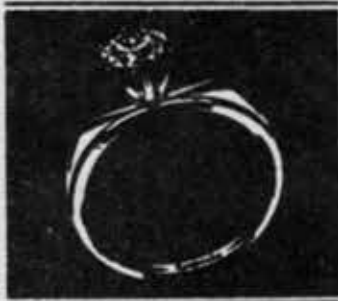

Mr. Hanscom will read a paper on "Assembly versus Governor in Colonial New York." Mr. Adams will comment on a paper to be read by Lane Hyslop of Western College on "Nationalism and Reform in the Thought of Gandhi and Neru."

Dr. Jones will serve as chairman of the world history meeting to be held on Saturday morning, May 13.

The conference, sponsored by Western Washington State College, is the third in a series of meetings designed to improve the teaching of history in the community colleges as well as the four-year colleges and to keep teachers abreast of the latest scholarship in the field.

Athletes to be Honored

Clay Still Boxing Champion

By Danny Zivanich

Cassius Clay recently refused to take the traditional one step forward and be inducted into the armed forces of the United States. As a direct result of his action he was immediately stripped of his world boxing title by the World Boxing Association.

This column does not wish to become bogged down in the dispute over Clay's refusal to be inducted; instead, it questions the right of the W.B.A. to strip Clay of his title solely because of his stand on the war in Vietnam.

Clay is the heavyweight boxing champion of the world. Like it or not, he is the greatest boxer this country will ever see. He is fast, deceptive, and strong. He has taken on every challenger who wished to take his coveted crown away and none have dethroned him.

People have accused Clay of fighting mediocre talent to provide an illusion that he is the greatest, but where are the top boxers hiding? Clay has not refused to fight anyone. They said Chuvalo would beat Clay, but he didn't; they said Patterson and his speed would bury Clay, but the exact opposite occurred; finally, they said Terrill would murder Clay; even his bar-room tactics could not help Terrill defeat Clay.

Clay may be wrong for his stand on Vietnam, but that stand should not interfere with his world title. Since the W.B.A. is based in the United States, a sense of prejudice can be felt. Some other countries have refused to recognize Clay as the champion, but what of the countries that still do recognize his abilities?

Clay has broken no law other than refusing to be inducted, and yet he is being treated as if he were a killer or a fiend of the worst Poe tale.

The United States is built upon the idea that two opinions are welcome and needed. Yet Clay's unpopular view is looked upon with contempt. Another former champion owes the United States government thousands in tax payments and he is not looked upon with disfavor. In fact, people say he is the only man who might have beaten Clay if the two had been fighting at the same time.

People accuse Clay of being a coward, but how many of them have had the faith of their convictions and lived by them so strongly. Clay was aware that his title might have been taken from him, that he might go to jail, and that he might have to pay thousands in fines, yet he stuck by his convictions and now the probabilities have become near certain.

It is indeed a sad day for boxing when the greatest boxer in the world is stripped of his world title because he disagrees with his government. Before Clay was the greatest boxing champion in the world; now he is a champion of an even greater magnitude.

Standouts Select

Kim Hoel, football captain and inspirational winner last year at Kent-Meridian High School, will enter the University of Washington next fall.

Hoel, 6-3, 195-pound All-Puget Sound League end, picked the Huskies over the Air Force Academy and Stanford. He has a 3.4 grade point average.

Mickey Coleman, standout tackle for the Royals, will attend Stanford. He stands 6-5, weighs 220, and has a 3.2 grade point average.

Drag Association Sponsors Clinic

The Northwest Drag Racing Association is sponsoring a free Dragging Clinic for the general public at Seattle Rambler, 3801 S.W. Alaska, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 16.

There will be talks on how to tune your car for the drags with little or no money, be it "Pure Stock," "Stock," or "Hot."

For the ones running in "Pure Stock" there will be a talk on the problem of wheel wrap and spring wrap up to see if traction masters should be permitted in this class. There will also be a talk on having an elimination class for "Pure Stock."

Some of the big names in drag racing have been invited and may bring their machines. They may answer some questions the participants in the clinic have on racing and their cars.

"If you want to learn about drag racing: How to, the rules, and meet some of the guys that are in the sport itself, Seattle Rambler will be the place!" said Dennis Fischer, GRC student, who is a member of the association.

If there are any questions, interested persons may contact Dennis Fischer by calling TE 3-1485.

Lettermen's Club To Hold Banquet

Green River's Lettermen's Club recently announced plans for its first Annual All-Sports Banquet. The banquet will be held May 22, and will be from 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. in the Auburn High School Cafeteria.

The banquet is open to the public and one of the aims of the banquet is to better relations between students, the community, and the Athletic department.

MC Taylor

Mr. Harold Taylor, Director of the Evening School, will be the Master of Ceremonies and will present the various awards. Featured speaker will be Mr. Don Richmond, general manager of the new Seattle Supersonics. The Sonics' head coach, Mr. Al Bianchi, also will be present if his schedule allows it.

Lettermen from cross-country, wrestling, basketball, swimming, and track will be honored. Three silver medallions will be presented in each sport; one to the most inspirational player, the most improved player, and the most valuable player. The selections will be made by the teams upon vote.

Piano Medley

Mr. Ron Smith, of the Green River Music Department, will provide after dinner entertainment with a piano medley. Roger Sloan will deliver a monologue entitled, "What it was was football."

Some of the athletes to be honored include Jim Dole, Vern Hoffer, Dale Opp and Greg Brovold.

Tickets are available from any letterman and will be sold at the door on the night of the event. Price is $2.00.

Sophomore Successful

A modern success story has demonstrated again the value of Green River College's civil-engineering program. Jim Suhaversnik, a 20 year-old Sophomore, has been accepted for a job with the State Highway Department.

He got the position by scoring high on an examination for the job. And on that order, he had nothing but praise for the GRC civil-engineering program.

Great Preparation

"The civil-engineering program here is great preparation," he said. "It provides a general background in surveying and how it is applied."

Jim, a 1965 graduate of Enumclaw High School, will graduate in June with an Associate of Arts degree. His job begins right after graduation.

Begin At Step 3

He will begin at Step 3 in the grading level. Normally beginning workers start at Grade 1.

Jim made this comment about his job placement. "I examined the field and found out that there were fairly good job openings. The Green River College program has given me exactly the type of background I needed."

Kastens Leads Highline to Big Win

Gym to be Completed Aug. 25; Pool, Handball Courts Next?

By Danny Zivanich

Every new day brings Green River closer to its own gym. The much expected and looked forward to gym will be completed August 25, 1967.

The new gym promises to be one of the best community college facilities of its type in the state. It will seat approximately 2,400 people, and will have facilities for eight badminton courts, three volleyball courts, two high school size basketball courts and a regulation basketball court. Also included will be a full gymnastics program and weight-training facilities. Future plans call for a swimming pool and handball courts.

1967-68 Use

The new gym will be ready for use when the 1967-68 version of the Gator dribblers take the floor.

Next year's team should be somewhat different from this year's. Coach Aubert has been revitalized with some outside transfers. Among these hopefuls are Duane Barnett and Marion Bozman from Central. Bozman is a 6-8 stand-out who will strengthen the center position. Barnett will add power to the guard positions.

Other Transfers

Other transfer students hopeful of earning a Gator uniform include Moses Taylor and Terry Rudnick.

In an effort to promote community support, Mr. Aubert also announced plans that would enable the Auburn Trojans to play some of their games on the Gator court. Some of the games would be preliminary games to the Gator games.

Christmas Plans

Plans for a Christmas tournament are also under way. The tournament would have both high school and college teams. The high schools would play a game and that game would be followed by a college game.

Entered high schools are Auburn, Federal Way, Port Angeles, and Ellensburg; colleges entered include Green River, Highline, and this year's league champion, Spokane.

The long awaited gym will be worth its "wait" in gold.

Japanese 4H Program To Work With College

Japanese farm youths under sponsorship of the National 4-H foundation will undergo training through Green River in a three-month program. Some 50 students are expected, with the first group of eight already located in the Green River Valley area and scheduled to start classes June 1.

Courses in ornamental horticulture, vegetable production, and poultry are planned. Study will lean toward the practical side, with visits to local operations and field exercises taking up a large part of the time.

The second group is scheduled to arrive December 1 and the third group on January 1. All of these youths are in the United States on a one-year agricultural program.

Those in the first group have been on local host farms. Auburn-area families will be needed to provide quarters for the students during the course. The 4-H organization will pay their expenses while here.

Green River is also seeking an interpreter to help with the program.

Pro Basketball

Seattle's bid for professional basketball got under way last week with the drafting of both pro and college players. If the new season were to start tomorrow a line-up consisting of Walt Hazard, Rod Thorn, Tom Meschery, Dorie Murrey, and Al Tucker could be expected.

G.R.'s First Track Meet Won By Highline 'Birds

Highline's Phil Kastens paced the Thunderbirds to a decisive victory over Green River, Columbia Basin, and Grays Harbor in a four-track meet in Auburn Saturday.

Kastens won three events as Highline chalked up 81½ points to CBC's 59½, Grays Harbor's 34, and Green River's 10.

It was the first home track meet ever sponsored by Green River.

3 TIME WINNER

Kastens won the high jump with a leap of 6-6¼, higher than anyone has gone in the state this year. He also won the triple jump with a hop, skip, and jump measuring 42-2, one inch short of the state record. His long jump of 21-4 was also good for a first.

Joe Biasch was another double winner for Highline, winning the mile in 4:19.4, a very impressive time considering he ran it on a soft track; and winning the half-mile in 1:58.3. In both races he was pushed to the wire by teammate Virgil Ayers, the defending state champion in the mile.

DOUBLE WINNER

Still another double winner for the Thunderbirds was John McKibbin, winning of the high hurdles and the 440 yard dash.

Mike Garrett paced Columbia Basin's Hawks to second place with wins in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The most dramatic victory of the day was Dale Opp's 9:44.4 two-mile triumph, the only Green River first place of the afternoon. Opp trailed Highline's Worthy through most of the two-mile race but halfway through the final lap of the eight trips around the track, Opp sprinted past the Thunderbird distance man and pulled away in the home stretch to win by 20 yards.

Although Opp's victory was the highlight of the day for Gator fans who were watching their first home track meet, Joe Neal provided some thrills by clearing 12-6 in the pole vault, matching his best performance of the season. His performance was good enough for a second place finish behind Columbia Basin's Land who cleared 13 feet on his first try and decided not to go any higher because of the small landing pit.

Other point winners for Green River included Greg Brovold, fourth in the javelin with a toss of 166-8, Mike Arnaud, fourth in the 100-yard dash in :10.75; and Jim Frazier, tied for fourth in the 220, :24.1.

Water Welcomes Raft Dodgers

Green River Wins All Five Heats of Race

Approximately 150 water-logged students from Green River and other area community colleges took a wet, rough ride down the Green River last Saturday in the Green River's second annual raft race.

Of the 25 rafts entered in the contest, 23 made it across the finish line in one form or another. Some of them were nearly in pieces by the time they arrived at the end of the two-and-a-half-mile course.

Two Didn't Finish

Two rafts didn't make it to the finish line. One of the ill-fated rafts fell apart before it made it to the finish line and the crew members were seen drifting down the river riding a wreckage . . . of barrels, inner tubes, ropes, and wood until the wreckage beached on the west side of the river.

The rafts were made of every possible combination the students could think of. One raft was made of two large styrofoam blocks tied together with strong rope. The most ingenious craft consisted of paddle wheels propelled with someone's bicycle and four sturdy oarsmen.

First Finisher

The first raft to cross the finish line was propelled by members of the Green River Veterans Club. They completed the trip in little more than 30 minutes. But this time wasn't good enough. The winning raft belonged to the Green River College Chemistry Club propelled by the muscles of Gary Fenster, Mike Rhode, Terry Hale, and Ted Thompson who covered the course in 30 minutes, 18½ seconds.

The race consisted of five heats along a course starting at Issac Evans Park and ending downstream.

Each heat began with a grand prix-type start where the crewmen had to run down to the river bank, board their rafts and make for the finish line.

Practical Garb

The crewmen were dressed in practical garb ranging from skin-diving suits, for the more practical students, to cut-offs and swim suits for the students who anticipated getting wet.

At the end of the race, the winning students celebrated by throwing members of the faculty in the water, including Mr. Earl Norman, dean of students; Mrs. Winnie Vincent, coordinator of student activities; and Mr. Edgar Eaton, "Current" adviser.

Other colleges represented in the race were Olympic Junior College, Everett Junior College, Highline Community College, and Tacoma Community College.
