Musical 'Bells' to Ring In Arts Festival Tomorrow

REHEARSING A SCENE from the musical, "Bells Are Ringing" are Jane Cleveland, Katy Cain, and Don Brown. The production will open the Festival of Fine Arts tomorrow at 8 p.m. It will also be presented Monday at 8 p.m. and Tuesday at noon in the Performing Arts Building.

Green River's first musical, "Bells Are Ringing" will open the third annual Festival of the Fine Arts at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Performing Arts Building.

The musical, written by Beth Comdem and Adolf Green with music by Jule Styne, also will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday, May 26, and at noon Tuesday, May 27.

Producer and director is Ronald Smith, director of choral music at the college.

Featured in the cast are Kristy Buckingham, Gary Torgison, Lucy Gunderson, and Lana Groby, all of Auburn; Jane Cleveland, Kent; Katy Cain and Kent Atkinson of Sumner; Steve Whitford, Fife; Dean Smith, James Beattie, and Bob Weisenburger, all of Seattle; Don Brown and Dennis Osthus of Renton; Denise Petersen of Pacific; and James Hartley of Tacoma.

"Bells Are Ringing" first appeared in the late 1940's on Broadway, starring Judy Holiday. In the 1950's, Dean Martin and Judy Holiday were featured in the movie. Popular songs from the musical include "Just in Time," and "The Party's Over."

The action of the play centers around a young struggling playwright who is trying to make it on his own after losing his partner, and a wise but innocent girl who is an operator for an answering service in New York City. The fun begins when the girl develops a personal interest in her male client and tries to rebuild his self-confidence.

Registration Procedures Changed For Returning Students

Important changes in the registration procedure for students returning to GRCC for Fall Quarter were announced this week by Registrar Richard Barclay.

In the past, according to Mr. Barclay, students have made a prepayment during Spring Quarter, then had to come in and register during the summer; under the new plan, final registration will be accomplished by mail.

Mr. Barclay explained that the new procedure will be as follows: 1) the returning student will obtain a green card from the Registrar's office; 2) he will see his advisor before the date printed on the green card (June 15), 3) plan his schedule during that visit, and put it on both green card and green folder (card must have two alternate subjects listed); 4) student will then return signed card to business office with $10.00 prepayment for validation, then return completed card to the Registrar's Office before June 15, 1969. 5) about July 15, the student will receive a registration packet mailed to his home and if this is mailed back before August 15, with a check for Fall Quarter fees, the student will then be considered fully registered for that quarter.

Early Summer Registration To be Held June 2-3-4

Students currently enrolled at GRCC will have the opportunity to sign up early for summer quarter classes, according to Registrar Richard Barclay, with registration dates for these students set for June 2, 3 and 4.

Students registering will need their advisor's or counselor's signature on their green registration folder which should contain a list of that student's summer class choices. The student must also plan to pay all summer quarter fees at this time.

Mr. Barclay suggests that the student can save himself a good deal of time and effort by planning both his summer and fall class schedules with his advisor during the same visit.

He also adds that if this early registration time is not convenient for the enrolled student, that student can still register during the regular enrollment period on June 18.

Students Request New Center Name: Dr. Melvin R. Lindbloom Student Center

If students at Green River Community College have their way, the new Student Service Center — the next building on the college's master plan — will be called the Dr. Melvin R. Lindbloom Student Center.

Student Senators Norm Margulis and Tony Bressan represented the Student Senate at the college board meeting Thursday, May 14, and presented a resolution to that effect.

The resolution reads: "Whereas Doctor Melvin R. Lindbloom is the first president of Green River Community College, having served faithfully for four years in this capacity,

"And whereas Dr. Lindbloom has repeatedly demonstrated a kindredship with the students at Green River Community College by his interest and concern for the students' well-being,

"And whereas Dr. Lindbloom has proven himself to be a dedicated educator and an outstanding administrator throughout his career.

"Now therefore be it resolved this 14th day of May, 1969, that the new Student Service Center be dedicated to Dr. Lindbloom and be named the Doctor Melvin R. Lindbloom Student Center."

The resolution was signed by all of the student senators.

The Board accepted the resolution but took no action. The building will be named after it is finished, they said.

"We've got to get the building now," commented Dr. Lindbloom after the presentation.

In other action at the meeting, the Board agreed to give the faculty and certified employees at the college the seven percent increase in salary ruled by the state legislature and also agreed to pay the normal three to four percent increment (depending on the place on the salary scale) above the seven percent — as for as $61,000 will go. The faculty had asked for 12 percent raise, plus increment.

THIS SPACE is reserved for the picture the Current would have run this week if the Student Senate had not barred a Current reporter from the meeting where the information was provided. An editorial on the subject appears on page 2.

Editorials and Opinion

Are Senate Ethics Questionable

One week ago yesterday our Current student reporter was ejected bodily from a Student Senate meeting, because she refused to leave the proceedings otherwise, as requested by the Senate officers, so that they might conduct "secret business," closed to the public and the press.

The meeting was still in order, still "open"; the "right of the press", the right to be there, was still in order, and legally our reporter had every right to refuse to leave.

The job of our reporter has been, and still is, to report the full contents of the senate meetings to the student public, whom the senate supposedly represents.

However, when part of a meeting is closed to both the student public and the student press, those ASB officers participating in such a move came under direct suspicion; do they have the legal, moral and ethical right to make such a move?

Why, when they have every opportunity to discuss matters in their executive board meetings, held in private, do they wait to hold a closed vote in the regular ASB meeting, which is supposed to be open to the press and public?

Apparently last year's episode of the secretly-voted lounge closure by the ASB, and the resulting furor and indignation at such high-handed action, which many students considered beyond the powers of these officers, has taught this year's officers absolutely nothing.

The Current has always attempted to give the fairest and fullest kind of coverage to the ASB meetings. However, at this time we find it extremely difficult to be objective about last week's action.

This censure of the ASB officers' actions is in no way a reflection on the subject matter voted on in the closed section—the naming of the future Student Services Building on campus for Dr. Lindbloom. We are in full accord with that and only take issue with the methods involved to accomplish that vote.

Budget Dissension Arises In Student Senate

By Matilda Black

Chris Goodman, senate vice-president and graduation Committee chairman, announced Julian Bond will be the speaker at the graduation ceremonies. Also, that graduation announcements are now available at the Book Store at 19 cents each.

The constitution for the Amateur Ham Radio Club was passed. Mr. Lester Midge is the advisor. This club has no connection with the college radio station.

Rob Bennats was told to return the Freshman Class constitution back to committee for changes and bring it back to the senate for approval at a later date.

Mr. Mike McIntyre requested that the senate approve the proposed budget so it could be forwarded to Dean Norman. Considerable discussion resulted when it was disclosed that the budget had been submitted once and returned. The budget had been reduced $4000.00. Dissension arose when it was revealed that the athletic programs had not been requested to reduce their requests, but that Student Activities had. A survey conducted by President Hunt indicates the Athletic budget at GRCC is much greater than for other schools. The budget was finally passed with the request of an additional $1000.00 for Student Government Activities to be balanced by reducing the Athletic program an equal amount.

Mr. McIntyre announced the Library would display color photographs of past ASB presidents until the Student Activities Building is finally completed. The senate unanimously approved funds for Dan Hunts picture. Mr. Hunt had departed before the matter was brought before the senate.

Children's Plays in Festival of Arts

Two plays, written especially for children, will be part of the Festival of the Fine Arts this week.

They are Rudyard Kipling's "Elephant's Child" adapted for readers' theater by Dr. Marcella Oberle. The other play is "Greensleeves Magic." Both are directed by Ronald Swift of Auburn High School.

The two plays will be presented first on Sunday, May 25, at 2 p.m. in the college's Performing Arts Building and second at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 28.

Featured in the readers' theater production will be Forest Franklin, Martha Schimpff, Stephanie Clark, Paul Clark, Bill Profit, Debi Gaspard, Bertha Franklin, Doug Huseby, Virginia Smith, and Tom Blinn.

The "Greensleeves Magic" cast includes Keith Parkinson, Bee Kaczmarek, Stephanie Clark, Brenda Leaird, Pam Murray, Debbie Odegaard, Nick Barta, Peggy Ginnow, Bob Justice, and Dave Atkinson. Becky Barnard is the student director.

REX WALDRON and an unidentified student stand in front of the Eiffel Tower during last summer's GRCC European art tour. Another tour is planned for this summer.

Rex Waldron's European Tour; Artistic Adventure In Learning

Enjoying a champagne picnic while cruising on the Blue Danube near Amsterdam, savoring a gourmet luncheon high atop the Eiffel Tower, visiting Shakespeare's birthplace at Stratford-on-Avon, touring the ancient Catacombs and famous Roman Forum in Rome, and browsing in the fascinating market places of Italian towns, plus a night club tour to Monte Carlo... Do these delightful pursuits sound like part of a college credit course?

They definitely are, according to GRCC Art Instructor Rex Waldron, if you join him on his forthcoming European tour, "Saga of Western Man," scheduled for June 26 to July 17. College credit may be obtained for the trip: Five credit hours for "Humanities 102," or three credit hours for "Art History 213."

However, Mr. Waldron points out that the tour is for everyone interested, and is definitely not limited to those seeking college credit, nor to college students. "Age is no factor, and enthusiasm is the only prerequisite to having a marvelous time."

Mr. Waldron, an art historian as well as instructor, is also a knowledgeable and experienced tour leader who has conducted several other tours to Europe and other countries. He stressed that he attempts to provide far more for his tour members than just the usual (and often disappointing) "stock tour."

On this trip, for instance, the accent will be on art, music and ballet, as well as historical sight-seeing and he has planned visits to many famous art galleries and showplaces of Europe, such as the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam, where all Rembrandt's paintings are hung; the Sistine Chapel in Vatican City, with Michaelangelo's Sistine Ceiling, and the Louvre and Modern Museum in Paris. The Viennese Symphony will also be enjoyed.

In addition, Mr. Waldron has arranged "experiences-in-transportation" for his travelers, such as fast jet flights, quaint European train rides, a tour boat trip on the Danube, a motor coach ride through the romantic Romeo and Juliet country of Italy, and even a gondola ride in Venice.

Also included are several walking tours, plus ample time for shopping and exploring the many hidden, "off-the-beaten-path" shopping and market places, boutiques, and stores that abound in Europe, like the Straw Market near San Lorenzo, Italy, famous for its leather goods.

Mr. Waldron has included many other "unforgettable experiences" in this tour, such as dinner in an Indonesian restaurant near Amsterdam, a visit to Beethoven's home in Vienna, (where he wrote "Moonlight Sonata"), seeing the Bridge of Sighs in Venice, Buckingham Palace with its changing of the guard in London, and, also in London, a tour of Westminster Cathedral, topped off by an evening visit to a pub on Carnaby Street.

The price of the tour is approximately $1,200, from Seattle round trip to Seattle, and further details may be obtained from Mr. Waldron at GRCC, TE 3-9111, Extension 323.

Mr. Waldron points out that registration has been extended to Monday, May 26, unless other arrangements have been made with him prior to that time, and he urges anyone interested to call him immediately for further information.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

With all respect to my boss and the "all-powerful" Student Senate I had hoped they would name some other building after Dr. Lindbloom than the new Student Center because I had always hoped that if they ever build a dining hall on campus they would name it Eaton Hall. (pronounced Eatin' Hall for those of you who couldn't figure that out.)

Yours sorta truly,
Edgar E. Eaton

WACCSG Delegates Approve Constitution

By Dan Hunt

Green River's delegation to the Washington Association of Community Colleges Student Government's annual convention in Pasco last weekend was forced to undergo an embarrassing vote of confidence, when it was discovered that their dues for the year had not yet been received by the WACCSG comptroller.

After GRCC's representative to the WACCSG, Chris Goodman, told the assembly that the money had been sent, the gathering of college leaders voted a 62-24 to allow Green River to vote.

The convention's chief order of business was approving the proposed constitution, which had been worked up by a constitution review committee. In the old document, each school had five votes, so that in the general assembly there were 110 people who could vote. The new constitution gave each school one vote, making a total of 22 altogether.

In order to avoid the fiasco perpetrated in Spokane last year when nothing got done because of long roll-call votes and too much constitutional procedure, a plan was devised to pass the new document "in toto" immediately.

The constitution became law, and the schools then worked out all the detailed changes on a simpler "one vote per school" concept. Even so, the delegates met from 8 p.m. to 3 a.m.

The Green River delegates, Dan Hunt, Dave Messmer, Chris Goodman, Linda Boik, Grdon Ip, Darrel Hagen and Mike Herold, along with their advisor, Mike McIntyre, flew to Pasco Thursday and returned Saturday afternoon.

They also attended workshops on campus newspapers, social activities and secretaries.

Mike McCormick, a state representative, and Dr. Albert Canfield, state director of community colleges, were the principal speakers.

One-Act Dramas Scheduled Saturday, Next Week

REHEARSING A SCENE from the Green River Community College production of "Inherit the Wind" are, from left, Steve Gehrke, Mike Parker, Donald Copeland, and Donald Sweaney. The play is one of the productions of the third annual Festival of the Fine Arts May 23 to June 7.

Three one-act presentations will be presented by the drama department as part of the third annual Festival of the Fine Arts which begins tomorrow.

The first play will be John Millington Synge's "Riders to the Sea," directed by Gary Taylor. A freshman drama major from Tumwater, Kathy Kohse, will direct the second play, a one-act of "The American Dream" by Edward Albee. Concluding the evening will be scenes from Jerome Lawrence's and Robert Lee's "Inherit the Wind," also directed by Taylor.

All three plays will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 24; and Thursday, May 29. "Inherit the Wind" scenes will be presented at noon Wednesday, May 28; "Riders to the Sea" and "The American Dream" will be presented at noon Thursday, May 29.

"Riders to the Sea" features Kathy Kohse of Tumwater as the mother, Maurya, who has lost five sons and her husband to the sea and pleads in vain with her one remaining son to give up such a life. Others in the cast include Patti Scott of Maple Valley and Mrs. Arlene Henline of Auburn who alternates in the role of Cathleen; Laurii Boudron of Kent and Tricia Wingerter of Tacoma who alternate in the role of Nora; and Steve Gehrke of Federal Way who plays the son, Barley.

Second on the program will be three scenes from "Inherit the Wind," the famous dramatization of the Scopes' Monkey Trial which pitted William Jennings Bryan against Clarence Darrow in the courtroom. GRCC instructor Edgar Eaton of Auburn and Mike Parker of Federal Way will alternate in the role of Henry Drummond who represents Clarence Darrow and Parker and Steve Gehrke will alternate as Matthew Harrison Brady who represents Bryan. Others in the cast include Buzz Cole of Federal Way, John Calveri of Puyallup, Donald Copeland of Renton; Donald Sweaney of Sumner; Claudia Apperson of Auburn, and James Hartley of Tacoma.

"The American Dream" is a contemporary farce that satirizes the "hypocrisy and materialism of social structures and the ego-centric personalities produced by them." Featured in the cast are Patti Scott of Maple Valley; James Hartley of Tacoma; Claudia Apperson of Auburn; Isabel Bruce and Smiley Hatcher of Federal Way.

SU Representative On Campus May 27

A representative from Seattle University will be on campus next Tuesday, May 27, and students interested may sign up in the Counseling Center, for an interview.

It's Time to Get Started Building That Winning Raft

By MIKE TERRY

A word to the wise, if you haven't already, would be to get going on that raft if you plan on entering one in the Green River raft race May 31.

Anyone who almost drowned in last year's race, (amen), will tell you that if you and your crew don't have a well built raft, the chances of your winning the race are next to none.

If fact, if you don't have a sturdy one, there's a good chance that you and your ship mates won't finish at all, as was the case with a number of ship-wrecked rafts last year.

Some of the wildest examples of ingenuity ever dreamed up by students floated down the river last year, with everything from rafts made of inner tubes to rafts built from airplane tanks, battling it out for positions in the running.

This year's race will once again be sponsored by the Club. Again it will start at Issac Evans Park and end up four miles down the river at Beer Bottle Beach.

For those who have never been in a raft race, low and behold, this will be a great opportunity to prove to that loved one that you can, by hook or crook, successfully pilot a raft to victory.

And for some of you who were in it last year, well, lets dispense with all the wild shenanigans, even if that contraption of your's didn't float, and really put forth an effort to end up somewhere near the finish line — even if you have to swim.

Sports Banquet Coming

GRCC's annual Sports Awards Banquet will be held next Wednesday, May 28, at 6:30 p.m. at Brad's Restaurant in Auburn.

Presentation of athletic awards will be made at the banquet to those students who have participated in the GRCC sports program this year, and they, and their families and friends are urged to attend.

The public is also invited.

All lettermen are requested to pick up their tickets to the Banquet today at the Lettermen's Club meeting at noon in P.E. 7.

Golfers Top Skagit In Final Match

Green River's golfers ended the season on a victory note last Friday when they outshot Skagit Valley 315-366 on the North Shore golf course in Tacoma.

Dan Benson took medalist honors for the Gators with a 75 on the par 72 course. Following Benson, all with scores of 80, were Pat McMahon, Paul Longwell, and Chuck Haaland.

The victory pushed the Gators final slate to 7-6.

Seventh Inning Comeback Gives Gators Split with Husky Pups

Green River's baseball team went out in grand style over the weekend when Coach Marv Nelson's diamond crew scored a pair of runs in the final inning to knock down the high flying freshman team from the University of Washington, 2-1, in the second game of a doubleheader played at Kent Memorial Park.

The victory came after the Gators had taken a 10-2 shelling from the Pups in the opener. In that game the Huskies, after falling behind 2-0, battered pitching ace Randy Hatfield for nine runs in the second inning on four singles, four walks, a hit batsman and two errors.

Pitcher Chuck Possenti replaced Hatfield in the third and went the rest of the way, holding the Pups to only three hits. But the effort was to little avail as the Gators failed to close the gap.

The Gators looked destined for defeat in the second game, too, when the Pups broke a scoreless tie with a run in the sixth inning on two singles and a pair of squeeze bunts.

But the Gators, who have swiped victory from many a team this season with their last inning antics, got runners on third and first on singles by Dave Wohlueter and Russ Knights. Then Randy Hatfield stepped to the plate, and with an eye for revenge, did the Huskies in by smacking a double down the right field line that scored the two winning runs.

The runs might not have been enough had fielder Ken Ghorley not made a diving catch in the top of the seventh for the Huskies third out, leaving runners stranded at second and third.

Sophomore pitcher Ron Toschi went the entire way for the Gators, scattering seven hits and allowing only the one Husky run. Losing pitcher for the Pups was Chuck Simonson, who until his encounter with the Gators in the seventh inning, had not lost a game all season.

The defeat was only the fifth of the year for the Husky freshmen, who have won eighteen. The Gators finished the season with a 13-11 slate.

Seven Gators Carry GRC Hopes at State

Green River's chief hopes at the state community college track meet at the University of Washington Saturday will rest with Norm Snodgrass in the half mile and Gary Paxton in the long jump.

Snodgrass tied for first at district last Saturday, winning his heat of the 880 in 1:56.9. The next heat was won by Jim Berwald in the same time and they were given a tie for first.

Paxton finished fourth in the broad jump with a leap of 21-3, but Coach Larry Turnbull is confident the sophomore from Renton is capable of winning state, if he can get his time down this week.

Others who placed for Green River at the district meet included the 440 relay team of Don Goddard, Bob Tucker, Gary Paxton, and George Casanova who took fourth; the mile relay team of Tucker, Rick Kinsley, Snodgrass, and Casanova who took fifth; and Don Wright who took sixth in the mile.

Mike Behrbaum, the Gators chief hope in the hurdles, the long jump, and the 100 is still recovering from an operation and Brad Moore, expected to win the pole vault in the state, went out at 12-6 at district when he had trouble getting his steps down.
