Hunt-Warren Contest Tops ASB Elections

By MARY ANEY

A total of 273 registered voters will determine the Green River College Associated Student Body and Sophomore Class officers when they vote today in the Green River College 1968 student elections.

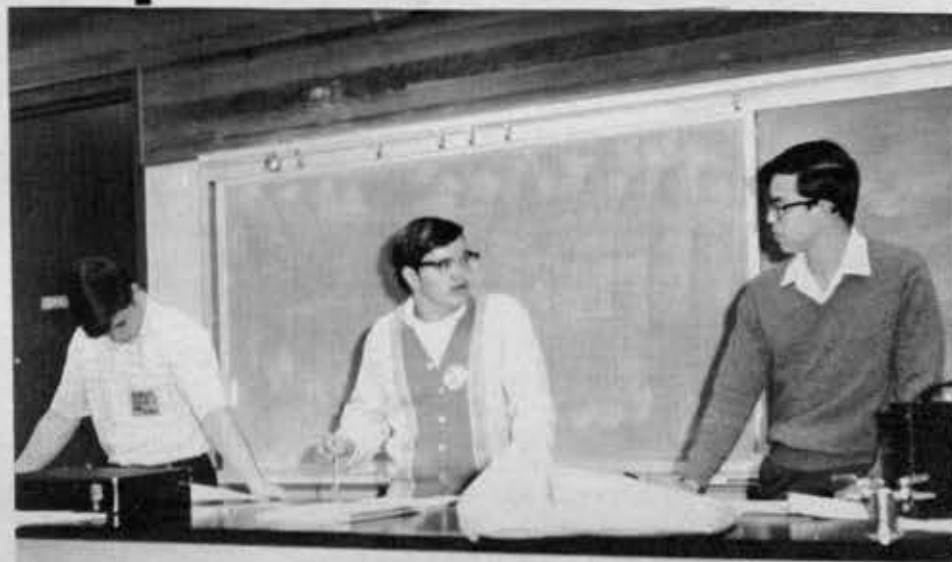

Dan Hunt and Dale Warren, candidates for ASB president, meet head on in what has been one of the strongest run contests in the election. Both candidates appeared before Green River students Wednesday in a debate that saw Gordon Ip, a former candidate for the office, announce his withdrawal from the race. The conflict between Warren and Hunt is further strengthened by Hunt's direct opposition to the proposed constitution, and Warren's support of it. The new constitution is also on the ballot for today's election.

In the race for ASB vice-president, Tim Cummings is opposed by two write-in candidates, Mike Willis and Gordon Ip. Cummings was left unopposed by a declared candidate after his original opponent, Kermit Swift, was declared ineligible for the election.

In the contest for ASB recording secretary, Mary Jeane Babinski and Denise Bouthiette are opposing each other. Linda Boik is uncontested in her bid for the office of ASB Communications Secretary. In the other contest for ASB office, Chris Goodman is opposing Cherie Kennedy for ASB Treasurer.

The race for Sophomore Class offices finds Mike Willis running unopposed for Sophomore Class president. But a hard-fought battle is being waged by two candidates for vice-president, Don Summers and James R. Linford. Paul Lange and Chris Harron are campaigning for the two sophomore representative positions. Candidates for Board of Control are Darrel Kinzer, Jerry Piper, Allan Wickstram, and Stan Basset.

An interesting feature of today's election involves the presence on the ballot of the proposed new constitution. That constitution, if passed, will do away with the present Student Council and replace it with a 15-member Senate elected by the Student Body. Important features of the new constitution include representation of part-time students and increased club autonomy.

Head Start, Early Careers Workers Attend Green River Classes

Fourteen Green River Community College students are effectively combining the roles of student and teaching assistant.

They are mainly mothers (one man is in the program) who work a half day as assistants in either Head Start or the New Careers program.

The Head Start assistants — Rachel Solman, Genevieve Lopez and Gloria Boatright, all of Kent; Marcia Smith of Auburn, and Charlotte Glisson of Federal Way — worked for six months with youngsters before enrolling in classes at Green River. Now they are allowed to enroll in seven quarter hours of classes (about half of a full-time load).

They still continue to teach a half day. They can continue to work out such an arrangement, funded by Head Start, through completion of a master's degree.

The program is conducted in cooperation with Seattle University who has the contract with the government. Green River serves as a "sub-contractor" for geographical convenience in most cases. Some students prefer to enroll at Green River because of a specialized program they want to pursue.

New Careers students are health assistants, food service personnel, and teachers' aids at several levels, from elementary through high school, whereas Head Start is only for pre-schoolers.

The New Careers student has a much more difficult schedule to arrange since he is required to take 15 hours at college, while working as a New Careers assistant half a day. The government does provide full support for that student, however.

Enrolled in the New Careers program are Kathryn Gorg and Marbra White-marsh of Auburn; Margarete Hendricks and Sharon Shaulis of Federal Way; Adella Houk, Enumclaw; Lloyd McDonald, Buckley; Marcella Williams, Black Diamond; Beatrice Mauch, Tacoma; and Emma Lorana Engels, Renton.

Green River is also a "sub-contractor" in the New Careers program, cooperating with Seattle Community College in providing the program for the nine students.

Green River to Pioneer With Physical Therapy Training Program in '69

Green River Community College next fall will begin the third two-year training program offered in the United States for physical therapy assistants, Dean of Instruction Ray Needham announced this week.

Programs were started last year at St. Mary's Junior College in Minneapolis and at Miami Dade in Florida. They will start the second year of their programs this fall.

Robert Hardin, chief therapist at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma City, has been hired to direct the Green River College program. He will also be the head of the Division of Health Occupations, replacing Mrs. Doreen Lorenz who will take her sabbatical leave next year. As division chairman he will also work with the occupational therapy assistants training program and with practical nursing.

The American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) in July adopted a policy statement approving the level worker of physical therapy assistant. It recommended that two-year programs leading to an Associate of Arts degree be set up in community colleges.

Students trained as physical therapy assistants will work in hospitals, community health centers, health agencies, nursing homes, clinics, crippled children's schools and camps, rehabilitation units, private practice, public health facilities, voluntary health agencies, and extended care facilities as they relate to health care.

Physical therapists treat patients on the prescription of a physician. They treat the patient with light, heat, exercise and functional training.

A survey conducted by the Washington Chapter of the American Physical Therapy Association revealed that 53.5 percent of the hospitals responding to the questionnaire expressed a need for full or part-time physical therapy assistants; 53.4 percent of the nursing homes agreed; and 60 percent of the physical therapists who replied indicated they would hire assistants.

The plans for developing the curriculum are to cooperate with the committee on supportive personnel of the Washington State Physical Therapy Association, state agencies, and allied medical fields.

ROBERT HARDIN

Hardin indicated that already more than 20 requests for admission to the program have been received by the college. Approximately 25 students will be enrolled.

Hardin has been a physical therapist at Parkland Hospital in Dallas; was chief therapist for the Fort Worth Society for Crippled Children and Adults and for the past five years has been chief therapist at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma City.

He has also been affiliated with the University of Oklahoma and Baylor University as a clinical instructor for the past five years. He is the former president of the Oklahoma chapter of APTA. He has both a B.S. and a B.A. degree from McMurry College in Abilene, Texas, and a physical therapist certificate from Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. He is now finishing his master's degree in public health administration at the University of Oklahoma.

The Hardin family, which includes his wife and four children, will arrive in Auburn this summer. He will start work on August 17.

The new division chairman spent a week on the Green River campus during April to plan curriculum for the program; design a brochure to be sent to potential students.

AWS Plans Tea May 5

A Bridal Style Show will be staged in connection with an Associated Women Students tea for Green River Community College women and their mothers at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 5, in the college's Performing Arts Building.

During the afternoon, the girls and their mothers will view a china and silver display arranged by Weese Jewelry of Auburn; the bridal style show under the direction of Virginia Hashaben of Renton; and a wedding cake display and demonstration by The Cake Box of Kent.

Gail Burrell, Kent, president of AWS, is chairman of the program. Committee chairmen include Chris Herron, Auburn, and Penny Kleven, Kent, style show; Mary Jo Ferrucci, Puyallup, china display; Judy Burrell, Kent, cakes; and Virginia Mann, Auburn, flowers.

Karen Rooney will be in charge of publicity for the event.

ASB Protest Move

CHUNG Quits!

In a surprise move before Student Council on Tuesday, the Green River chapter of CHUNG moved to withdraw its charter from the Council. Marty Boatman, CHUNG President, requested the withdrawal. The Council considered the motion and tabled it for further consideration. Boatman's surprise move came in the wake of the successful CHUNG Road Rally run three weeks ago which had been received with enthusiasm by participating students.

In a statement released to this paper last Wednesday, Boatman said that the "withdrawal was a protest against the kinds of school restrictions we keep running into.

"We don't like the idea," Boatman said, "that in order to do anything we must have the constant approval of school and student government officials. This is a deliberate move to demonstrate that CHUNG cannot operate under this restrictive system.

"Our main purpose," Boatman said, "was to prove that a small club could pull off a worthwhile event. We tried to encourage school spirit and I guess most persons would say that we did."

The CHUNG Road Rally, generally conceded to have been one of the most successful events of this school year, had over 100 participants.

Boatman said that "CHUNG will continue as a private club. Students interested in participating in CHUNG should contact me or some other club member."

Registration Reform Asked

Green River has a voter turn-out of 273 students of a possible 1500. The fact that twenty per cent of our full time students are allowed to control our student elections is not due entirely to student apathy.

A large portion of the blame goes to our unnecessary and ineffective voter registration system. It is a great hindrance and since no proof of credit hours being taken is required to register it does not even serve to separate full time students from part time students, which has been considered to be its only redeeming function in the past.

Voter registration should be eliminated at G.R.C.C. Part time students should be given the right to vote on all issues and candidates during campus elections. The only requirement a Green River voter should have to meet is that he show his student identification before he votes to prove that he is a G.R.C.C. student. This would create a healthier, more democratic atmosphere for student elections.

Part time students should be given more than just the right to help elect their own senators at large as our new constitution proposes. They should be allowed to participate in the election of all A.S.B. officers and whatever other issues are on the ballot. The requirement that a student take at least twelve credit hours in order to vote is similar to the archaic requirement that a citizen be a property owner before he can vote in a national election. It is simply undemocratic and should be eliminated.

CHUNG Announces Road Rally Results

Larry Parish, driving car number five, drove away with first place in the CHUNG Car Rally run from Green River College to Ocean Shores on April 20. Parish received 20 per cent of the gross or $115.20. Dane Johnson, running for Dan Hunt in car number one, earned $57.60 in the contest. Don Sweeny, in car number 17, placed fourth, and Blaine Sorenson got fifth place in car number 11.

Dixie Ericson, Gary Gadwa, Rick Gray, and Jerry Kendall placed sixth through ninth in the Rally.

Over 110 cars participated in the event. CHUNG earned $256.78 which will be donated to the Allen Erickson Fund of the Zion Lutheran Church in Kent.

Withdrawal Shows Concern

The withdrawal of Gordon Ip from the Associated Student Body Presidential race last Wednesday was significant in that it showed that at least one candidate is more concerned with student government than with student office.

In an effort to prevent what generally was conceded to be the runaway election of Dan Hunt, Ip withdrew from the race and shifted his support to another candidate, Dale Warren. Ip's move assures at least some uniformity in the vote opposing Hunt.

The importance of this event lies not so much in the fact that Ip and Warren have established something of a workable coalition, but rather that one candidate, in what he considers to be the best interest of student government, threw his support to an opponent thereby losing all chance for that office. Further, Ip's action strengthens the student faction opposing Hunt's confident campaign.

Ip's announcement now reduces the election to a contest between two persons who must run, not on experience or qualification, but on platform.

Of the two candidates now remaining in the campaign for ASB President, one is a candidate whose sole claim to fame lies in the fact that he has organized and given "the best parties." Unfortunately, the ability to organize a party does not necessarily imply the ability to organize and administer a properly effective student government.

The other candidate, running on the Young Democrats ticket, offers an interesting and impressive platform. Further, the considerations of his platform demonstrate an enthusiasm and concern for student government that has not been evidenced in Hunt's campaign.

Tutors Needed for Summer Work-Study Students

Twenty high school graduates who did not plan to enter college next year but are now reconsidering will be eligible for a work-study program at Green River Community College.

Students who elect to take part in the program will enroll in an eight-week summer session, go to school a half day, and work a half day with pay. All students participating in the program will take a 2½-hour communications class daily, taught by Jerry Johnson and Don Isaacson and will enroll in one other class taught on the regular summer schedule. They will receive college credit for both classes, although the communications class will not transfer to a four-year institution.

Transfer students, vocational majors, or general studies students are all eligible for the program, said Jerry Johnson, director of the work-study session.

Also hired for the summer will be four returning students who can work as tutors during the eight-week summer session.

They will be able to take one class in the regular summer program, but will also work with groups of four or five students in the work-study program. The tutors will also be in charge of their groups of students during the afternoon as they work on campus in such jobs as landscaping and maintenance. After the eight-weeks, the tutors, if they choose, will be allowed to work full time the rest of the summer.

The tutors do not need experience but should be students with varied, well-rounded backgrounds. The kinds of activities they participate in, the kinds of jobs they have held, as well as their school performance will be taken into consideration.

Any student interested in enrolling in the program or applying for a job as a tutor may contact Jerry Johnson at Green River College's counseling center any weekday between 9 and 5 p.m. Tutors must be current Green River College students planning to come back next fall to qualify.

Barbara Jarvis Fund Established

A memorial scholarship fund is being established at Green River Community College for Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Jarvis, a secretary at the college who was killed in an automobile accident early Sunday morning. The fund is being established by members of the college staff who worked with Mrs. Jarvis.

Contributions can be taken or mailed to Mrs. Hugh (Lois) Tankersley in the library workroom who is in charge of the fund. The monies will be deposited with the scholarship and loan fund at the college to be made available in perpetuity to students for short-term, interest-free tuition loans.

Mrs. Jarvis, who had been on the college staff for nearly two years, was returning from a visit with her parents in Wenatchee when the accident happened near North Bend on the Echo Lake Cutoff highway. A truck swerved across the road and hit the Jarvis vehicle headon. Mrs. Jarvis died instantly. Mr. Jarvis, who was a passenger in the car, is in a Seattle hospital listed in fair condition.

Survivors include four children, ranging in age from 11 to 18.

Philosophy Club Meets May 7

The Green River College Philosophy Club will meet Tuesday, May 7 at 7:30 at 122 M Street in Auburn.

Club President Norman Eriendson said that the results of the Northwest Philosophy Convention recently held in Portland will be discussed.

Hanging Out The Weekly Wash

By Dirty Dan Weekly

A lot of funny things have been happening as GRCC's comedians had a field day in the last couple of weeks. Apparently student apathy doesn't extend to humor. Among the funniest things lately were . . .

Ralph Goss' legs turning on everyone in the library foyer.

John Harrell, Angel of the Morning, busting a gut with pride at his election as "Mr. Ugly."

Murray MacNeil packing away 73 marshmallows in two minutes.

Kristi Van Hoosen bouncing an egg across the commons to Dan Leslie and still walking away with 1st prize.

Dale Warren and Gordon Ip grabbing girls at the kissing booth.

The 20 new students we added the day after the beard growing contest was over.

The Sophomore Class and its day of fun and frolic at the annual "Spring Fling."

Tim Cummings selling his red-hot, day-old, hot dogs for 10c.

Paul Nelson actually working in the Student Lounge.

Dek Kinser running around to fill in his petition for Sophomore representative only to remember he would still be a Freshman.

Kermit Swift running for ASB vice-president.

Duane Barnette hollering "I'm Dave Bing, I'm Dave Bing." and getting the ball stolen by a fat, blind, 5 foot 7 inch stumblebum in front of all his old basketball teammates.

Mike Willis, Steve Rhodes, Barbara Delle Vella, Steve Twardus, and others all skipping classes to sunbathe on the lawn.

Car #11, in a crackup at checkpoint B of the Road Rally, and still going on the finish in the top ten.

Jas Linford, European Sports Car Enthusiast, using 17 quarts of bulk oil on the trip to Ocean Shores.

Dan Hunt, ticketed for going 35 on the beach, being used as a threat to those driving 80 plus.

Bud Blair of KAYE, whiskey ice and blond in hand, grooving with the live band at the Road Rally party.

The lead guitarist of the "Day's End" pumping out psychedelic sounds with gloved hands.

Grev Bever and Mike Willis oyster hunting at 3 a.m.

13 guys sleeping in Marty Boatman's matchbox motel room at Ocean Shores.

The Grub-In next day at 10 a.m. as 50 people invaded the local Donut Shoppe.

Dean Norman doing the Watusi at the Semi-Formal.

'Angel' Wins 'Ugly' Contest

"Angel of the Morning" John Harrell ran away with the Mr. Ugly Contest. And Ralph Goss, Mike Willis, Tim Cummings, and Jack Boyett walked off with victory in the Mr. Legs Contest.

John Harrell earned his victory by garnering $2.32. His closest contender, "Muckleshoot" Murray MacNeil, got 66 cents. "Snidly Whiplash," Mike Willis, earned 53 cents. Greg "Bullwinkle" Mason received 22 cents and "Mr. Clean" Tim Cummings got 35 cents. "Babyface" Jim Lincoln earned 16 cents. A write-in candidate, Kermit "Mamma" Swift garnered a grand total of six cents. "Kid Crud" Dan Hunt earned 26 cents.

In another freshman sponsored events, the Mr. Legs Contest, Ralph Goss earned 34 cents outscoring his opponent in the Hairy Legs category Terry Rudnick. Mike Willis beat out Paul Rushton in the Sexiest Legs category. Willis earned $1.20 to his opponents 36 cents. In the Skinny Legs category lanky Jack Boyett won in a close race over his opponent. Tim Cummings got $1.24 in the Muscular Legs category defeating Steve Brink who earned 73 cents.

In other contest, Mr. Neil Uhlman won the Associated Women Students Popcorn Eating Contest. He won a bottle of Coke for his efforts.

"Spring Fling" was capped off by the Freshman sponsored Spring semi-formal, "Evening in Athens" which took place April 27. Some sixty couples attended the event. At one time sponsors of the dance had considered calling it off because of student disinterest. The increase in student interest came in the last few days before the semi-formal took place.

Gary Taylor Cast In 'Mary, Mary'

Drama director Gary Taylor has been selected to play the character role of Dirk, an aging movie actor, in the play, "Mary, Mary."

"Mary, Mary" by Jean Kerr was a Broadway hit and a successful movie. Producing the comedy are The Candlestick Players of Federal Way.

The play will be presented May 9-11 in the Highline College Lecture Hall.

In the title role is Christine McMurdo who appeared in several University of Washington plays and Little Theatre productions in Colorado and Montana. She will play opposite Bob Gower, a regular performer in Tacoma Little Theatre shows. Another member of the cast, Duncan MacLean, is a veteran of many years of acting including performances at the Cirque Playhouse in Seattle.

Management Club Elects Officers For 1968-69 Year

Robert Whorley of Seattle was elected president of the Green River College Management Club for 1968-69 in voting held last week at the college.

Gary Smith of Spanaway was named first vice-president; Joe Allard, Maple Valley, second vice-president; Chris Stowe of Rainier Beach (Seattle), secretary; Bill Sutton, Kent, treasurer; Glenn Reedy, Enumclaw, reporter; and Glen Latham, Shelton, historian.

Occupational Therapy Students Receive Grants

Ten Green River Community College students are attending college on Occupational Training Traineeship awards, ranging from $141 to $415.

Some of the grants are for the entire year while some are only for one or two quarters, according to Richard Barclay, registrar.

The students are Mrs. Alys Mae Belden and Susan Jean Bridenback, both of Auburn; Mrs. Viola McAfee Hedlund and Patricia Lynn Wingerter, both of Tacoma; Mrs. Ellen C. Ackerson of Graham, Diane Bartlett of Puyallup, Vickie Lynn Crothers of Seattle, Lewan Pauline Hatfield of Algona, Judy Ann Reynolds of Kent, and Donald Waddell of Poulsbo.

The program was begun just this year, the first of its kind in the nation, as a pilot study to train occupational therapy assistants. Directing the program is Miss Shirley Boeing.

Students Return From MUN Meeting

Green River Community College was well represented at the Model United Nations Convention held in Tucson, Arizona last Wednesday thru Saturday, April 23 through 27. This year Green River delegates represented Iraq and became members of the Afro-Asian Bloc.

Those who made the trip were: Ellen Stendal, Judy Baker, Mary Heindel, Larry Knipshield, Ken Malidore, Jeff Demmon, Brian Murray, and Mr. Orval Hansen (advisor). The delegates were members of the Economic & Financial Committee, the Political & Security Committee, the Trusteeship Committee, Special Political, and Social Humanitarian and Cultural Committees.

Working in committee meetings and in caucus sessions, each delegate had several opportunities to voice his opinion on certain resolutions and at the same time converse with other representatives. Such issues as the representation of China, the elimination of foreign military bases in Asia, Africa and Latin America, and the elimination of all forms of racial discrimination with measures to be taken against Nazism and racial intolerance were discussed by the various General Assembly Committees.

The purposes of the Model United Nations, first created by students from Stanford University in the early 1950's are to advance its participants' understanding of the principles and means by which international peace may be maintained, to develop a greater understanding of the nations of the world, the relations between them, their policies, and the nature of their work in the United Nations. Also to further an understanding of the effectiveness of the United Nations in solving international problems and to be an institution for the coordination of the action of college students in the attainments of these ends.

Apollo K. Kironde, who is the United Nations Secretariat in charge of the directorate responsible for African problems within the Department of Political and Security Council Affairs was the guest speaker. He stated that "The greatest challenge facing the world today is the problem of creating working multi-racial societies", and "studying the problem is one way of starting towards a better society, for if we do not start soon, we face the possibility of an international racial war."

A concert featuring Mort Saul, Bob Deeming, Mike Cooney and the Los Changuitos Feos was one of the highlights of the four-day convention. While in Tucson, there was little time for the delegates to take in the sights of the city, but each student gained a great deal of knowledge in the procedures that are so much a part of the real United Nations in New York, and also in the slow and sometimes cumbersome workings of the democratic process.

OT AWARD WINNERS - Vickie Crothers of Seattle and Don Waddell of Poulsbo look over some work in an occupational therapy class at the college. They are among 10 students who received traineeships to participate in Green River's OT program, the first in the United States.

VISTA Film Scheduled May 6-7

"A Year Towards Tomorrow", a new half hour color documentary depicting the difficulties and rewards of VISTA Volunteers will be shown continuously Monday May 6 between 1 & 3 p.m. in PA-8 and Tuesday May 7 from 12 to 1:30 in ST-5 as part of the VISTA recruitment program on Green River's campus. A representative will be available to discuss and answer any questions students may have about the program deemed "The domestic Peace Corps".

VISTA stands for Volunteers In Service To America. Participants spend a year of their lives in service to America and see the world as it is, not as it should be. Their primary task is to help people transform the squalor and ugliness of poverty into something better; not into the world as it should be, perhaps, but to make a tenement, a neighborhood or an entire community a better place to live.

Volunteers walk and drive the rutted roads that crawl back into the eroded hills of Appalachia and live and work in the isolated slums that dot rural America. If they seem to have a common bond, it is that they care about what happens to those in want, and they care enough to try to do something about it instead of with it. They go wherever there is poverty — on Indian reservations, in migrant worker camps, in the back streets of city slums, and in Job Corps camps and institutions for the mentally handicapped.

VISTA is the volunteer corps of the Office of Economic Opportunity. The minimum age is 18 and there is no maximum age. The pay is oftentimes said to be low ($600 a year) but the personal benefits are exceedingly high.

Anyone who is interested in the program and wishes more information is encouraged to contact the recruiting officer either Monday or Tuesday, May 6 and 7.

Summer Quarter Registration Set

Students attending Green River College and planning to attend the summer quarter sessions at the college may assure themselves a place in the registration line by signing up in the registrar's office after the third week in May.

Registration for summer quarter will begin June 12 and end June 14. Registrar Richard Barclay stresses the fact that only a certain number of students will be able to attend classes during the summer. All persons registering will be taken on a first come, first serve basis. Only those who sign up with the registrar by June 12 will be guaranteed a place in the registration line.

Summer session classes will begin June 17.

GUY WOODS

Woods Wins Twice But Gators Lose

Guy Woods paced a Green River track team in their home meet of the season to some of the best individual performances of the year, but the Gators lacked the depth to overcome any of their three opponents. Wenatchee won the meet with 64 points; Clark had 46, Bellevue had 40, and Green River had 30.

Woods came from behind to win the mile in 4:26.9, his second best clocking of the year in that race, and won the two-mile in 9:56 after overtaking teammate Dennis Jones on the final lap. Jones was second in the two-mile in 9:58 and third in the mile in 4:28.9, his best time this year.

Greg Brovold had some stiff competition push him to a 203 ft. 7½ in. performance in the javelin. Messenger of Wenatchee in second and Yerkes of Clark were both within a few feet of Brovold.

Brovold clipped the 120 yard high hurdles in :16.1 for a fourth place, good enough for another point.

Tim Cummings cleared 12-6 in the pole vault to set a school record. Bill Nelson of Wenatchee made 13-0 to defeat Cummings for first place.

Other Green River point winners include Chris Torbensen, third in the shot with a put of 41-7¼; Don Goddard, third in the 100 in :10.1, his best time this year; Al Fern cleared 5-10, his best height, to get fourth in the high jump (James Linford cleared 5-8, his best this year, but failed to qualify for a place); and George Streepy barely edged Sam Gillespie for fourth in the 880 in 2:08.

Tomorrow Coach Larry Turnbull takes his squad to Highline College's Thunderbird relays.

Gators Still Snapping At Heels of Shoreline; Skagit Here Tomorrow for Doubleheader

Still in the thick of the fight for first place in the Northern Division of the state baseball conference, Green River tomorrow will host winless Skagit Valley at Kent Memorial Field.

The Gators, going into this week, were 6-3 in league play, just a half game back of Shoreline with a 6-2 record. Shoreline's only two losses came at the hands of the Gators.

Barrett Wins Again

Last Tuesday, Dan Barrett scored his fourth win in as many starts by whipping the visiting Samurai, 12-5. At Shoreline Saturday the Gators managed only one win in a twin bill with the division-leaders. The hosts shutout the Gators in the opener, 4-0, but suffered a 4-1 defeat in the second contest with Barrett getting credit for his fifth win of the season. A two-hitter against Skagit earlier this year by Randy Hatfield has been the only league game the Gators have won, not credited to Barrett.

In the first game at Shoreline Saturday, the Samurai picked up a three-run lead in the third inning on a pair of singles, a walk and a double. They made it 4-0 in the next inning when they scored on an error, a hit batsman, and single, all after two were out. Hatfield struck out eight men in the seven-inning contest and walked only two, but the Gators couldn't put enough hits together to back him up.

Chuck Possenti started the second game for Green River but suffered a sore arm after two innings and Barrett took over mound duties in the third. Barrett came into the game with a one run lead because of hustle on the base-paths by Steve Adams. Adams hit what should have been an infield out, but the throw to first was wild and he scampered to second. A few moments later he stole third and the catcher, firing late to the third baseman, shot the ball into the outfield and Adams scored.

Pitcher In Trouble

Barrett, in spite of the 1-0 lead he started with, found his first inning on the mound Saturday a shaky one. The freshman lefthander from Renton had just pitched nine innings in defeating Shoreline Saturday at Kent. The Samurai almost scored three runs against the undefeated Green River hurler. Barrett walked a man, the next one singled, and with two out Harper belted a home run — but he forgot to touch third. The result was that only the run that scored before the third out counted. And Harper was technically out at third.

Gators Lose

The Gator golfers lost to Spokane by eleven strokes Friday at Northshore golf course in Tacoma.

The team scores were, Green River 351, Spokane, 340. Ed McGee and Paul Longwell were low men for the Gators with 86 apiece. George Gamble was best man for Spokane with a 79. Greg Adams scored 89 for the Gators and Pat McMahon cupped a 90. Spokane's other scorers were Jim Murray, who stroked an 85, Tim Barry, 86, and Tim Connel, 90. Par for the course was 72.

In the fourth inning, Barrett yielded a single, but then settled down and finished the seven inning contest without giving up another hit.

Meanwhile, the Gators got the one-run lead back in the fifth inning when Barrett walked and later scored on a sacrifice fly by Chuck Bayless. In the final inning they added a pair of insurance runs when Russ Knights and Chuck Bayless both walked and Dave Wohlhueter got a base on an error to load the bases. Then Ken Ghorley walked, driving home the first run, and Wohlhueter scored when the Samurai tried for a double play on Steve Adams' ground ball. They got Ghorley going into second, but failed to beat Adams to first.

ANOTHER STRIKE — Dan Barrett, shown pitching here against Skagit Valley, chalked up his fifth win against no defeats with a win at Everett last Saturday. The Gators host Skagit Valley again tomorrow in a twin bill at Kent beginning at 1:30 p.m.
