TEXAS BOUND — Green River management representatives, from left, Bill Trimm, instructor Joseph Werner, and Chris Stowe will attend the national leadership meeting of DECA next weekend at Houston, Texas.

Bill Trimm, Chris Stowe To Attend Texas Meeting

Bill Trimm of Renton and Chris Stowe of Seattle will leave Saturday, April 27, for Houston, Texas, with adviser Joseph Werner to attend the Post Secondary Division National Leadership Conference of the Distributive Clubs of America (DECA).

They are among 20 Washington state students selected to participate in the conference which is designed to help develop future leaders for marketing and distribution. It will be held at the Rice Hotel in Houston from Sunday, April 28, through Tuesday, April 30, and is expected to draw several hundred leaders of DECA and faculty advisers from throughout the country.

Miss Stowe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith W. Stowe, 8117 49th Ave. So., was recently elected secretary of the state DECA organization. The Rainier Beach High School graduate is employed by Frederick and Nelson as part of her management studies at Green River.

Bill Trimm, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Trimm of 311 Renton Street in Renton, placed in the impromptu speech contest at the State Leadership Conference held in Yakima on March 24-26. As part of his management training, he works for Budget Rent-A-Car.

A special feature of the conference will be the presentation of scholarships to a number of outstanding students for advanced study in marketing, management or distributive education.

Nationally known leaders from the field of marketing, education and government will attend the conference, serving as judges and consultants, and will participate in workshop sessions.

Voters Register Today for Spring Elections

Elections for ASB and sophomore class officers will be held May 3. Positions to be filled are ASB president, vice president, communications secretary and recording secretary, and Sophomore President, vice president, secretary and treasurer. There will also be five constitutional amendments on the ballot.

Voting registration is being held near the library entrance between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. today. All students who have not yet registered are urged to do so today. All students who are taking twelve or more credit hours are eligible to vote.

Faculty Urges Student Involvement In Planning 1968-69 Orientation

Students are being asked to take an active part in the planning of next fall's new student orientation and registration. In the past, registration has been planned by members of the administration and faculty.

In a planning meeting held Monday in the Board Room, Dan Hunt and Joe Smith represented the student body in meeting with faculty, counselors and administrators in going over plans for the fall program. A meeting to finalize all plans will be scheduled within the next two weeks by Dean of Students Earl Norman. All students interested in working on the committee should contact the dean so that their schedule may be taken into consideration in selecting a time to meet.

The proposed plans call for one day of orientation. First, a mass meeting will be held for all the new students where they will meet administration officials and learn what is expected of them as GRCC students. They then will be divided into smaller groups, according to their interests in courses of study.

In the small group sessions, faculty from each department will outline the various programs. Student assistants will also meet informally with the newcomers and answer questions about program planning, activities, and campus life. Tours of the campus will be conducted by students. Students uncertain about which program to pursue will have an opportunity to attend more than one conference.

During the one-day orientation period, students will be pre-advised. Following orientation, the students will have a day off to mull over what they discussed with the counselors and then return on the following day for advising and registration.

Advising will be scheduled to allow more time for individual attention to students who need it.

Freshman Class 'Springs' Fling

Spring Fling, a week of activities designed to help students work off some of their spring fever, is scheduled to take place between April 20 and April 27 on the Green River campus. Grubbies are in and students are invited to wear their worst.

The week of activities will begin with the Chung road rally which is scheduled to begin tomorrow at 7 a.m. at G.R.C.C. and end at Ocean Shores at about 8 p.m.

The second annual Green River Community College Turtle Race is scheduled for Monday. It will be sponsored by the Newcomers Club.

Tuesday the Management club will sponsor Campus Beautification Day. The following day, April 24, the Political Action club will supervise Green Rivers part in the national, "Choice 68" college level elections. All students have the right to vote in this election. The transportation club will also have a speaker from Boeing on campus that day.

Thursday will be Freshman class day and several events including a Mr. Ugly contest, a kissing booth, a Mr. Legs contest, an egg throwing contest and the freshman survey are scheduled.

The sophomores will take over Friday and they have scheduled a frog jumping contest, a marathon volley ball game, an egg-spoon relay contest, a velocipede race, pie eating and throwing contests and a Pogo stick race.

The weeks activities will be capped off by the spring semi-formal. Sponsored by the freshman class this dance features a 16 piece band, "The Metronomes" and will be staged in the Renton Inn.

CHOICE 68 Vote Set for April 24

On Wednesday, April 24, Green River students will have the opportunity to vote for candidates and issues, according to Norman Erlendson, President of the Political Action Club.

The elections are being held on a majority of colleges, junior colleges, and community colleges throughout the nation. National results will be published in TIME Magazine — sometime around the first week of May. Each participating school will also receive its own results.

On the Green River campus, balloting will take place in front of the library, from 7:30 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Voters will be asked to indicate party preference and age on the ballot. All students are eligible to vote in the election which, besides presidential preference voting, will also include voting on major government policies.

The Green River Political Action Club will sponsor the elections on the Green River campus. Instructor Nigel Adams, club advisor, said that the election will be an "opportunity for every student to give his opinion on candidates and issues. The TIME Magazine is hoping for a cross section of national opinion."

Board of Control Considers New Code

The G.R.C.C. board of control presented a proposed set of guidelines for regulation of campus speakers, distribution of literature on campus and a code for student conduct to the student council 6 weeks ago for consideration, and action will be taken to improve and except or reject these at Tuesday's meeting.

The proposal also outlines procedures for taking severe cases of student discipline to the board of control.

All students should read this proposal and take suggestions for changes, disagreements and suggestions to their student council officers (class and ASB officers) or to the student council meeting that will be held Tuesday at 12. The location of this meeting will be announced in the bulletin.

Nearly $50,000 Granted GRCC in Federal Funds

Green River Community College has recently received funds totaling $49,720 in federal funds to provide assistance to GRCC students.

Richard Barclay, registrar at the college, reported this week that $22,080 in Economic Opportunity Act grants have been allotted to Green River for 1968-69. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has granted $19,720 for assistance to students on work-study programs from July 1 to December 31, 1968. Another grant will be made this fall for the second half of the school year. A grant for vocational work-study students covering the period from March 13 to June 30 totals $7,920.

The $22,080 grant, announced on March 18 by Senator Warren G. Magnuson, will be matched by the college in several ways, said Barclay. Institutional scholarships, work-study programs, and institutional loans are used to match the Economic Opportunity Grants.

Eighteen students at Green River have received an average of $333 per year from EOG funds which pays for tuition and books.

The College Work-Study grants by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare — announced last month by Donovan J. Allen, chief of the work-study branch of the Division of Financial Aid — are matched by the college which pays 15 percent of the working student's salary. The college will begin paying 20 percent in August. Students on work-study are employed by the college as secretaries, grounds keepers, photographers, clerks, lab assistants, custodial help, and physical education assistants.

The $7,920 vocational work-study grant is available only to students in occupationally oriented programs.

The college work-study programs have employed 140 students in campus jobs during the past year, according to Barclay.

Firebug Wanted: Apply Within

Wanted: arsonist with large match and ability to ignite entire student body. Call Green River College.

An old poem by Lewis Carrol goes: "The time has come," the walrus said, 'to speak of many things. Of ships, and sails, and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings.'"

For students of Green River College, cabbages and kings are not of prime importance. But dress codes, reciprocal ASB cards, and constitutional revisions are. Today, on the verge of the 1968 student elections, the time has come to speak of these topics. And the time has come to light a fire under this student body regarding such issues.

It is up to the candidates to light the fire. And if they are, indeed, the type of candidates who desire increased student participation in and awareness of student government affairs then it is up to the candidates to light the fire now before the elections take place.

It would seem slightly inane to campaign now on a "I-have-a-3.2-grade-point-average-and-was-track-manager-in-high-school" platform, and then expect students to be passionately concerned with real issues next year. That, it would appear, is rather like trying to light a fire with wet matches and decayed fuel. Naturally, such a fire is difficult to kindle and not at all likely to burn. The time to start the fire is now when the issues are at hand and can be easily kindled and when students, through their voting privileges, have the opportunity to survey the issues and act on them.

Nor can this campus allow the victims of disinterest, that acute illness that inspires lethargy, to play the part of firemen who come running in next year with the firehose of apathy to put out the flame. (The fire must be kindled with the fuel that is at hand. And once it is kindled it must be sustained through active campus participation.)

Smokey the Bear is an advocate of fire prevention. On this campus, at least, where the need for some heat is clearly evident Smokey the Bear is a FINK.

Hopefully, at least one of the candidates for student government offices will be a firebug in the forthcoming election.

Fags Disfigure Campus

Once again Green River is having problems with students who are hung up on being "adult."

This time the people involved are cigarette smokers and the problem they are causing is one that should concern every student at Green River who has the least bit of pride in this campus.

Discarded "butts" are beginning to disfigure the planted areas between the walks around campus. Unfortunately, the children who stand around "blowing weeds" between classes don't care that their psuedo adult habit is dirty and unbecoming or that its relative merits ("butts") are beginning to overflow onto our campus. Since most of the smokers are hard core and insulated against constructive criticism suggesting that they stop is useless.

But perhaps they would not object to using the ashcans supplied by the college in most areas where such riff raff collects or even to pick up some of the mess they've already made.

Passage Awarded Plaque

Homer Green of Sunnyside, president of Western Building Material Association, last month presented a plaque to Richard Passage, head of Green River College's management program, for the work he has done in cooperation with WBMA leadership training.

Green cited the help that Mr. Passage and the college programs have been in management development programs, including the college's regular two-year program for training young men and young women for retail business positions. He also thanked the college for its Monday evening programs in leadership training and for its assistance in executive conferences.

Fall Registration Being Readied

Students planning to enroll at Green River Community College next fall should begin getting their credentials in order now, according to Registrar Richard Barclay.

So far, 600 students have applied for registration appointments for the fall term. Those who have their admissions folders completed will get the first appointments, Barclay pointed out.

Contestants Bristle In Beard Contest

Some generally clean-shaven males on campus have taken to making life a bit more difficult for Gillette Razor Blade Company. Of course, it's all being done in accordance with the Green River Beard Contest presently being sponsored by the ASB.

Steve Polly had this to say, "My friends say I look good and my folks don't like it. I grew the beard for the Road Rally because it was something different to do. I like it."

Another Green River student, Jerry Piper, said, "One reason I grew mine is that a beard is a good camouflage for hunting season. It also makes me look old so I can get into bars easier. My friends say they think it makes me look like a Mexican. My girl says its soft and furry. . . sex appeal, you know."

Ernie Heminger was not altogether pleased with his effort when interviewed last week. "Mine is kind of itchy," he said. "I started growing it as a form of rebellion because my mother said I couldn't grow a beard."

But Terry Rudnick, a freshman, had other difficulties. "I started my beard because I forgot a razor when I went to the ocean," Rudnick said. "I've gotten giggles, chuckles, and just plain laughs from people who see me. One girl I'm taking out thinks its soft . . . but the trouble is, its turning red."

These hirsute contestants are among the competitors in the contest. Prizes will be awarded for the longest beard, the best styled beard, the neatest beard and the grubbist beard. ASB President Gary Gadwa announced this week that applications are being taken for judges.

Gadwa urged Green River coeds to sign up now for the position.

Reciprocal ASB Cards Discussed at Skagit

Seven Green River student representatives attended the Northern Region Meeting of the Washington Association of Community College Student Governments when the group meant April 12 at Skagit Valley College.

The Green River students, headed by Associated Student Body President Gary Gadwa, attended workshops to discuss various aspects of student government. Student orientation, reciprocal dance cards, newspapers, and student government and administration relations were among the topics considered.

A state meeting of the WACCSG is planned for May.

Spend An 'Evening in

You don't have to be Greek to go to Greece. And if you act right now, you don't even have to leave the state to visit Athens. As a matter of fact, you can get there and back in one evening if you attend the spring semi-formal, "Evening in Athens," April 27 at the Renton Inn.

The event, sponsored by the freshman class, will feature the music of the Metronomes, a sixteen piece dance orchestra, and a gothic atmosphere.

Tickets for the event which is scheduled to run from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. are on sale now in front of the library according to Gordon Ip, dance chairman. Tickets are priced at $4.00 per couple.

Ripples On The Current

Grab ASB Card, Demand Seat in U.N.

Why does G.R.C.C. produce, day after day, the hard core of educators, philosophers, statesmen, and diplomats that this country desperately needs? Is it our professors with their Podunk backgrounds and their Harvard and Yale standards? Or is it our administration who, with the highest ideals, are trying to make Einsteins out of grade school dropouts? Whatever the cause, it is creating a curious attitude. Instant Philosophership! Immediate punditry! Grab you ASB card and demand your seat in the U.N. Ever listen to the professional statesmen down in the Student Lounge? "I think we should drop the H bomb and blow them away". "Turn the Army loose." "Kill them all." Sounds like Nero's entertainment committee arguing over tomorrow's program.

The philosophers are over in the corner, constantly nodding at each lack of brainpower whild desperately trying to cover up their own with a perpetual inane patter. They solve the world's problems over coffee and cigarettes while enither knowing people are trying to do about responsible people are trying to do about them. It is a comfortable way of confusing actual stupidity with intelligent conversation and calling it reality.

The educators are different from the philosophers in that they are more vocal, their opinions more positive, and their ideas more widely distributed whether the listener wants to hear or not. "There are good ones and bad ones." "They all carry knives." "Some of them are my best friends, but . . ." Unlike the others, the educators rely on ignorance and the big lie to overcome the objections of the uniformed. Hitler made good use of people like this because of their overpowering belief in their own greatness.

Diplomats are the most evasive and the most sequeamish. Around them you hear words like "withdrawal", "peace", "negotiation", and underlying it all "surrender". $ Don't ever let a diplomat get behind you or you may get stabbed. $ The qualifications for one of these cozy groups are simple and similar. Register and you shall be enlightened. Enroll and you shall be educated. Entry into Green River means status without end. The absolute in social circles from coast to coast. People come from as far away as Highline to touch the sacred ground. Governor Dan comes to soak in the atmosphere. Lobbyists prowl the commons. Presidents wait outside the library to buttonhole students. Our school is known as the "Little MIT of the Green River Valley."

There are those who say that G.R.C.C. is choked with student apathy. I think the wole problem is they have too much to do already.

CHUNG Car Rally Set for Tomorrow

Over 40 cars from Green River College will participate in the CHUNG Road Rally scheduled to begin tomorrow at 7 a.m. at Green River College.

CHUNG President Marty Boatman announced earlier this week that the rally course, originally planned to take participants into Eastern Washington and then back to this side of the state, has been altered. Boatman said that the "weather conditions were horrible...especially in the passes. We couldn't expect our competitors to go through that."

"At this point," Boatman said, "the rally will take about six hours. We couldn't expect our competitors to go through that."

An entry fee of $5 can be paid at the start of the rally tomorrow. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Allen Erickson Fund of the Zion Lutheran Church. Erickson is a Green River freshman suffering from kidney failure who has been accepted at the Seattle Kidney Center.

Club to Discuss Guaranteed Annual Salary

"The Protestant Ethic and a Guaranteed Annual Income" will be the chief topic of discussion at 3 p.m. Tuesday, April 23, at a meeting in the Humanities-Social Studies Gallery hosted by the Philosophy Club.

The guaranteed annual income is a question currently being discussed by Sen. Eugene McCarthy in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency.

All students and faculty members interested in the discussion are invited to attend, according to club officers. Participants in the discussion need not be members of the Philosophy Club.

At the meeting, club members will make final arrangements for the trip to the Philosophy Conference in Portland next month.

Boeing Man To Speak Here

A Boeing Company coordinator will be on campus April 24 at 12 noon according to Paul Lange of the Green River College Transportation Club. The coordinator will conduct a general discussion on the future of the Super Sonic Transport. The program will include a color film and slides.

The appearance is being sponsored by the Green River College Transportation Club. All Green River students are invited to attend the presentation which should be of interest to potential pilots, stewards and airline personnel. A question and answer period will follow the program.

Students to Attend Arizona MUN Meeting

Green River students Bruce Stendal, Larry Snipschild, Ken Malidore, Brian Murry, Mary Heindel, Judy Baker, and Ellen Stendal will represent the Iraq delegation when they attend the Model United Nations scheduled for April 24 through April 27 at the University of Arizona.

Model United Nations is an organization of college students who represent various countries belonging to the United Nations. The regular procedures as to conduct, sessions, and the General Assembly meeting are strictly observed at the four day meet.

VISTA Film To Be Shown

"A Year Toward Tomorrow," a new color documentary depicting the difficulties and rewards of VISTA Volunteers, will be shown Monday, May 6 at 1, 1:30, 2:00, 2:30, at P.A. 8 and Tuesday, May 7 at 12 noon, 12:30, 1 p.m. in S.T. 5.

The movie, photographed and directed by leading industry professionals, is an unsentimental tribute to the selfless work of VISTA Volunteers in poverty areas. Paul Newman, after seeing the first cut of the film, was sufficiently moved to narrate the film for a one dollar token fee.

"A Year Toward Tomorrow" was filmed at two locations — an all-Negro slum in Atlanta, Georgia, and the desert country of the Navajo reservation in Lukachukai, Arizona.

ICC Meet Next

Brovold Gets Only Gator First

Green River thinclads head for Longview tomorrow for a four-team track meet with host Lower Columbia, Skagit Valley, and Spokane.

Last week the Gators finished fourth in a four-way meet at Bremerton with Greg Brovold winning the only first place of the afternoon for GRCC. Brovold threw the javelin 198-8. Brovold, who has consistently been around 200 feet and better all season long, is shooting for the state conference record of 217. He threw 212 two weeks ago at Yakima.

Other point winners for the Gators at Bremerton Saturday were Guy Woods in the mile and two-mile and Don Goodard in the 100-yard dash. Woods finished third in the mile in 4:28, just two seconds of his best time of the season and third in the two-mile in 9:48, his best time this year in that race. Goodard, placing for the first time this year for the Gators, tied for third in the 100 in :10.3.

Dennis Jones, in a field of top distance men, took fifth in both the mile and two-mile.

The Gators will host their only home meet of the season a week from tomorrow when Wenatchee, Bellevue, and Clark arrive for a four-way meet at Troy Field, across the street from Auburn High School.

Gators Host Everett Tomorrow In Baseball Rematch at Kent

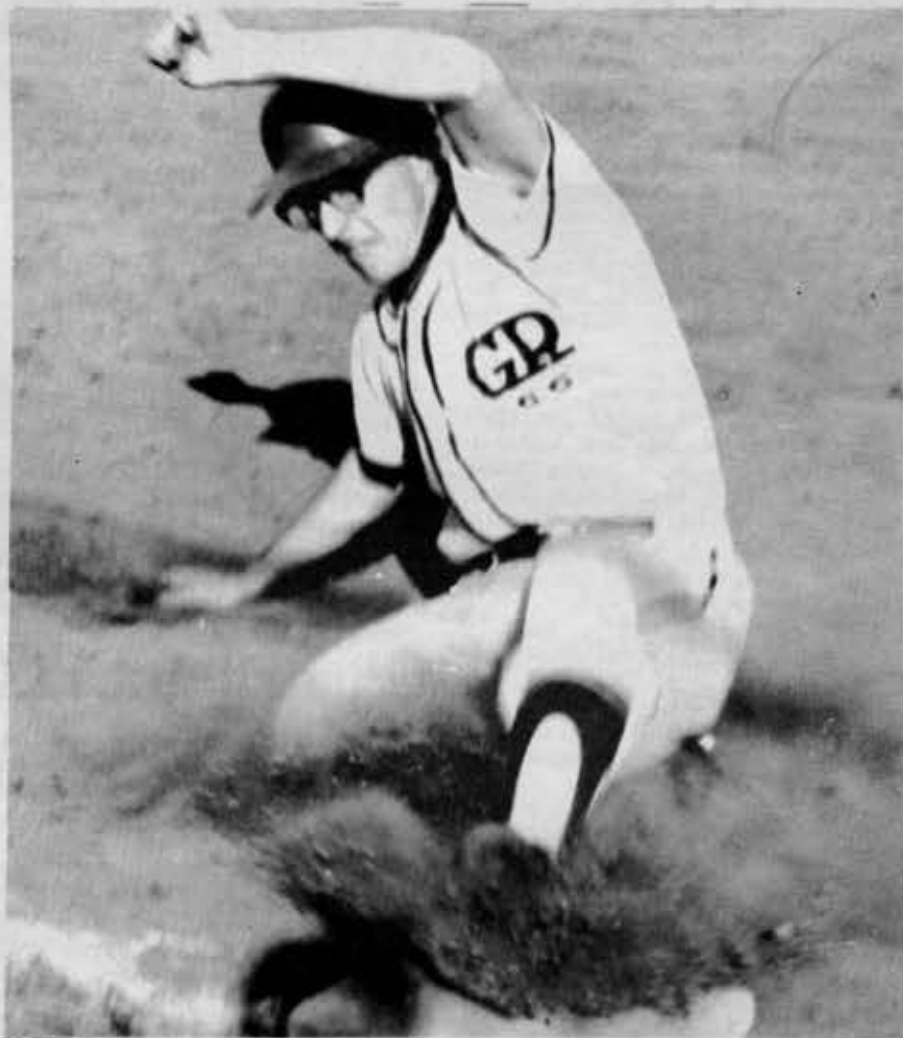

After a 6-5 upset at Everett Wednesday, Coach Marv Nelson's Green River Gators will be shooting for revenge tomorrow when the GRCC baseball squad hosts the Trojans in a doubleheader at Kent Memorial Field, 850 N. Central in Kent, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The Gators went into Wednesday's game, leading their division of the state community college baseball circuit with a 3-0 record.

Wednesday's game, postponed from Tuesday because of snow at Everett, was decided by walks in favor of Everett, but Green River nearly came back, via the same route. A three-run double by Dave Bach and a triple by Steve Adams in the third game the Gators a 4-2 lead going into the bottom of the fourth inning. But the hosts picked up a run on a walk, a sacrifice, and a single in the fourth and two more in the sixth on two walks, an error, and a pair of hits to lead 5-4. They made it 6-4 in the eighth, but in the final inning Green River staged a "walking" comeback that fell short. The first three Gators who came to the plate were walked, then one struck out, and another walked to drive in a run, making it 6-5 with the bases still loaded and just one out. But the next batter struck out and the next grounded out to end the game.

The Gators last Saturday were impressive in getting wins number two and three against Skagit Valley which this week plays first place Shoreline. The Cardinals were stopped twice, 8-2 and 2-1, on their home field by Green River.

Green River scored seven runs in the first inning without getting a hit to open the first game when seven Gators walked, one got aboard on a two run error, and another on a fielder's choice. Pitcher Randy Hatfield walked in two runs in the Skagit half of the second inning after the hosts loaded the bases on a walk, an infield bunt single, and a fielder's choice. But that was it for the Cards. Hatfield never gave up a hit after that and struck out nine in the seven-inning contest. In the first game, Gary LaBrie turned in three outstanding defensive plays, fielding sharp grounders that looked like sure hits.

SAFE AT THIRD — Dave Bach, shown here sliding into third in last week's win over Skagit Valley, was the big hitter Wednesday, driving home three runs with a bases loaded double against Everett. The 3-0 lead failed to hold up however, as Everett rallied for a 6-5 win, the first league loss for Green River.

In the second game, Dan Barrett who shut out Skagit here last week, 13-0, on a one-hitter limited the hosts to two hits, but had to go eight innings to win, 2-1. Barrett walked a man in the first who moved to second on a sacrifice bunt and scored on a single by McKinnon. He gave up a hit in the second and after that was brilliant in setting down the SVC club hitless, striking out 12.

Green River tied it in the fourth, 1-1, and in the final inning won the game on a pair of walks a fluke play by the Skagit third baseman. With two out in the top of the eighth, the first extra inning, Ron Lee got aboard on an error; then Dave Bach and Russ Knights walked to load the bases. But Dave Wohlhueter hit a sharp grounder to the third sacker that looked like the third out. The infielder grabbed the grounder and started to third to force out Bach, but he fell down and the GRCC base-runner beat him to the bag. Meanwhile, Lee had scored and the game was over.
