

Gators Win No. 1 Highline Next

Highline, Green River, Bellevue, and Clark scored victories Thursday in the opening day of the 1968 state Community College Basketball Tournament being held at Green River.

In the semi-finals tonight Green River and Highline will tangle at 7 with Clark taking on Bellevue in the 9 o'clock contest. In the afternoon games, Everett and Spokane meet at 2 o'clock and Yakima faces Tacoma at 4 p.m.

In the consolation round, the loser will be eliminated; the winners will meet Saturday at 5 p.m. for fourth and sixth places.

Tomorrow at 7 p.m. the losers of the Highline-Green River games and the Clark-Bellevue game will meet for third and sixth places in the tournament and the winners will meet for the championship.

Clark and Bellevue will be meeting for the first time this year and it's anybody's guess who will win that one. Clark finished the season with a 16-2 league record, tied with Highline for the Western Division league lead. Bellevue was far ahead in the Eastern Division with a 14-2 league record.

The Green River-Highline game could be one of the highlights of the tournament if past games between these two clubs are any indication. Highline won the first game this year, 90-81, at Highline, but the Gators came back to protect their perfect record at home by dropping the Thunderbirds, 83-73. The Gators are still undefeated on their home floor.

In Thursday's place, Highline completely dominated the opener in spite of a brave effort to come back by Spokane. The Thunderbirds won by a narrow 102-98 score but lead by as much as 18 points. Harold Ross led Highline with 29 points but yielded high point honors for the game to Dave Chapman of Spokane who netted 30 points, the top total for any player all day long.

In the 4 p.m. game Everett's Trojans gave Green River a real scare before falling, 77-69. The Trojans led the entire first half, once by 19-6, and went off the court with a 36-33 lead. But Green River came back strong, paced by the scoring of Duane Barnette who was 0-8 from the field in the first half and the Gators pulled away. Marion Bozman led the Gator scoring with 20 points, 15 of them in the first half. Moses Taylor had 19, Tim Cummings 13, Barnette 12, John Harrell 11, and Roger Sloan 2. Howard Clark led Everett with 17; Rich Armstrong had 14, Ralph Whitman had 13 and Al Clise finished with 12.

Bellevue finally started hitting in the second half against Tacoma last night to win, 83-68, in spite of a determined Titan club that battled strong to the end. The Titans let much of the first half but trailed at the semester, 31-29. Bellevue never relinquished the second half lead but Tacoma kept cutting away at it, getting it down to five points at times.

Tacoma was handicapped by the loss of Don Lehman, their leading scorer, early in the first half when he was injured battling for a rebound. He went crashing to the floor, his glasses scattered, and he had to be taken to the hospital where he received five stitches over one eye. He returned just as the game ended and is expected to be able to play this afternoon.

In the final game last night, Yakima surprised Clark by keeping within striking range of the highly-touted Penguins through most of the game. Clark won, 75-72, but in the first half the lead changed hands six times; the score was tied four times. Clark led all of the second half. Don Johnson led Clark with 20 points; Ron Luttrell paced Yakima with 29.

Green River scoring leader Moses Taylor drives for another two-pointer as Marion Bozman looks on from the background. Green River topped Everett yesterday afternoon in their first game of state tournament, 77-69. The Gators face Highline tonight at 7.

Tourney Cooperation Greatly Appreciated

Rules and regulations compiled for tournament use by the State Interscholastic Commission are being strictly enforced for the tournament being held at Green River. All students and faculty members are reminded that this is not a Green River College function and that all rules applied for spectators attending the various sessions this weekend are applicable to them, also.

Simply because a teller or ticket-taker may be an acquaintance or a friend does not mean that any special privileges are afforded to any students or faculty members.

For the general information to all concerned the rules include:

1. That the ASB card or faculty card to be shown at the door with ones ticket, if the ticket is not an adult ticket.

2. All persons purchasing a student ticket may not leave the gymnasium and expect to be allowed back into a particular session without purchasing another ticket.

3. All season passes are considered adult tickets.

The Commission has worked hard and set a fine set of rules for what will undoubtedly be one of the best administered and smoothest run tournaments yet. With the cooperation of the students and adults attending these games, the problems encountered by the Commission will be greatly reduced.

Green River Spectacular: State Basketball Playoffs

The Washington State Community College Athletic Association chose the Green River College gymnasium for the sight of the 1968 Community College Basketball Tournament. The eight-team, double elimination schedule is in the third year of use, but this marks the first year college facilities have been used for the state basketball playoffs.

Up until this year, the tournament was held at Cascade High School in Everett, but this year the Interscholastic Activities Commission agreed to use college facilities whenever possible for state-wide events and chose Green River for its central location and functional capacity for this year's state tournament. The entire tournament is under the WSCCAA supervision, and the tournament schedule, ticket prices, and rules were made by the tournament committee.

At the end of the tournament, the outstanding player of the tournament selected by the sportswriters will receive the Phil Pesco award. Vieing for this award are 96 of the outstanding Community College basketball players representing the eight teams entered in the tournament.

The best of all possible luck is wished for all of the teams who are entered in the tournament. You are to be congratulated for representing your fine college in an outstanding sports spectacular — the 1968 Community College Basketball Tournament.

Student Government: Thing of Past?

(ACP) — Are student governments at universities around the country failures as they are now constituted? Are they due to the radically changed — or even abolished?

All evidence points to the affirmative, says the South End of Wayne State University, Detroit.

A growing number of students is expressing dissatisfaction with their "representative" governments and their overall lack of power. Many are disappointed with their inability to effect change in the areas of academic reform and basic university restructuring.

At Wayne, frustration is becoming increasingly evident. Two Student-Faculty Council members have resigned from the Executive Board and others are contemplating resigning. Many others do not intend to run for re-election.

SF-C Chairman Chuck Larson shares the disenchantment. "Student government can never be relevant to students at Wayne as long as they allow the administration to develop the guidelines for its operation," he said.

"The SF-C is constituted by means of a charter granted by the President of the University. He has the power to change it at his discretion and has done so in the past."

Larson said he recommends reorganizing the SF-C "by giving students the opportunity to decide what mechanism they want to represent them. This mechanism would be established and would not negotiate with the administration for the right to exist."

"It destroys a student's self-respect and is degrading," Larson said, "to have to go to the administration and ask them for the right to have a voice. It is an inalienable right of all people, including students, to control their own destinies."

Mark Shapiro, SF-C representative at the Convention of the Michigan Association of Student Governments, said he found "that the majority of student governments around the state were even in a worse plight than we are. It is apparent that student governments are undemocratically formed — not on the basis of one man-one vote."

The University of Michigan's Student Government Council, in an attempt to gain control over the activities it undertakes and allow for greater financial freedom, is incorporating under university regulations.

Its chairman, Bruce Kahn, expressed dissatisfaction with student government in general, suggesting student unions instead or possibly no organization at all.

"Apathy is rooted into the nature of education at American universities," Kahn said. "There will be no change in universities until the American student becomes radicalized."

"Often student leaders themselves are at fault. Many are interested in personal power rather than student power."

Ed Schwartz, president of the National Student Assn., expressed the sentiments of a growing number of students at a national conference on student power:

"The lesson is clear — you cannot keep any group in subservience in a society which purports to be free without that group applying the standards and hopes of democracy to its own condition. The labor movement said that in the 30s; the black people have said it in the 60s; the students will say it in the late 60s and beyond."

Ripples On The Current

Dear Editor:

The job of a faculty adviser to the school paper often puts me in an uncomfortable position. I can read school paper copy and editorials and offer advice but since my chief function is that of adviser, not censor, when I find myself in disagreement with editorial stands of the paper, the only way I can respond is by a letter to the editor.

Last week you criticized the Auburn Security Patrol who you said "supposedly" protect the campus from vandalism. I have high praise for the security patrolmen for the many times they have run potential troublemakers off campus, for how they have helped control the drinking situation at dances, for their help at ball games.

The fact that the most serious trouble we've ever had here is that some college kids spread toilet paper all over the place is a real tribute to Dean Kartchner and his private police force. I don't really see how you can expect one guard to do more than what was done that night. The students started a fire in the lower parking lot which had to put out by the patrolman. In the few minutes that he was thus occupied, the "TP" incident took place. It's true that much more serious damage could have been done, but that's a danger we always face when we can afford only one patrolman on duty at a time. If serious vandalism had been done, you can bet that the offenders would be under arrest by now because the patrolman got a description of the car getting away, and because you and other students openly admit you know who did it. It would not be difficult to track down the "criminals" if their crime were serious enough.

My hope is that security patrol does the effective job it has done in the past so that serious problems can continue to be avoided.

Yours truly,
 Ed Eaton

Dear GRCC Basketball players and coaches:

Before entering the finals of State Competition we, the Pep Staff of GRCC, would like to take this time to express our feelings of pride and respect we have gained for you in the 1967-68 Basketball Season. There hasn't been a game that we haven't been proud to represent you and everything you stand for.

We feel that the "GATORS" have had the power to inspire a cheerleader to do her best for them. You have made it a fun and rewarding experience for all of us.

You had a few bad breaks during the year, but plowed out of them keeping well poised. We feel the coaches deserve credit here for all the help and inspiration they have given you.

We have suffered with you in your disappointments, and we have been joyful in your success, which we hope will continue.

Thanks for everything you have done in contributing to our success.

In closing we want you to know that the student body and ourselves are behind you 100 per cent in State Competition, and we're sure only the best will come of it.

Sincerely,
 The 1967-68 GRCC Pep Staff

Dear Editor,

Woody Fowler's confession in last week's paper was interesting, but unfortunately, ignorant of the facts. He has attempted to lightheartedly excuse student apathy as naturally resultant of the apparent lack of effectual student government.

Fowler believes the Student Council to be nothing more than a rubber stamp, unable to exercise any influence over campus affairs. He further cites several examples of student government impotency and claims that because of these, the students can't really support the council.

In truth, the opposite is the case. Any absence of effectiveness in the council is directly the fruit of non-support from the student body. The council does not provide blanket approval for the administration, but until it can demonstrate that the students are backing responsible government, it can do nothing much beyond trying to make its voice heard. However, the Woody Fowlers are too busy condemning to help.

In every example used by Fowler, the student government is attempting to improve its position. It is trying to revise the parking lot situation; and there is no greater involvement in the artist-lecture series. And if Fowler thinks that the administration has killed the efforts to obtain reciprocal ASB cards, I suggest that he attend a couple of council meetings.

The whole point of this is that the student government is trying to develop a powerful, effective system. No one gives a student body its control, the student body must work hard and earn it. With a little help from Woody Fowler and from the rest of the student body, the council can begin more and more to assert its will. Criticism is great, if you're willing to assist in the revision of that which you attack.

Dear Editor:

The ideals put forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution indicate that this is a nation that considers the idea of human dignity sacred; that this is a nation to which importance of the individual is without question; that this is a nation where no single person should ever be prevented from developing or expounding his ideas; and that this is a nation where people have an obligation of honesty, sincerity, and fairness to one another.

Something, though, has happened over the last 200 years. This country is now far from its original position. Consider the idea of individualism. Today this idea is undergoing a revolution. A nation where once individualism was held in high esteem scorns the practice of individualism. If any of you doubt this think about the need for the latest car, clothes, and the fashionable ideas that come to us in waves. What about the man who dresses different from your crowd? You find him repugnant. He is reviled because he is somewhat different and stands out from you.

What is happening to us? This nation was built by people of courage. It is now being torn down by those who lack the courage to speak out against what they consider wrong. The people whose only goal in life is to drive a late model car and take part in the daily bridge game are ruining this country.

How many of you have received money from your parents instead of an answer to your problem? How many of you have been put off by the following: "You're right, I'd like to take your side...but you see, I've got a position to protect." or "Well, right now it's best that I don't rock the boat." If those statements have a familiar ring, is there any wonder why there is much disgust among you for those in the "authority".

Though many have forgotten the ideals upon which this country is based and adopted the philosophy of cowards, the phonies, and the double-talkers, we, the young, cannot afford the luxury of doing so. We simply cannot follow the leadership of those who are squirming on the ladder of success. We have to look into our souls and follow the dictates of what we feel is right, even at the risk of being repulsive to others. You must admit that these ideas are far superior to those of "our leaders".

Finally you must adopt a philosophy of life which is in keeping with what this country is all about. If freedom is for everybody, then it means even those that do not belong to your group. If this country believes in man's dignity, then differences of the others should not matter. Let the longhairs have their hair, the guitar players strum away, let the writer search for his conception of truth. If this is their wish — so let it be. Let us not be garbage throwers, or otherwise try to punish those who choose to be different. Also, if we believe that we have an obligation to one another, let us not turn our backs when we are needed.

Remember what has happened in many cities? People are attacked and scream for help but none is received. The neighbors and the passersby don't want to be involved. This is an indictment of the older generation. How about ours?

Frosh Class Prexy Resigns: Willis to Take Top Spot

Freshman Class President Jim Akers announced his resignation last Friday, creating the second vacancy in the student government in less than a week. Mike Willis, class vice-president, will now lead the freshman class and the office of vice-president will become vacant.

Akers cited personal reasons in his decision to resign.

Willis, 19 year old 1967 graduate of Renton High School, is a member of the varsity basketball team at Green River, and leading scorer for the junior varsity team.

Jim Meyer, sophomore class president, resigned his office last Thursday to create the first student government vacancy since all student government offices were filled two weeks ago with the selection of a student body vice-president and treasurer, and a sophomore class vice-president and two representatives.

Academic Freedom, Student Rights To be Topic of Symposium April 9

A student symposium entitled "Academic Freedom and Student Rights" is tentatively scheduled for the second week of spring quarter on Tuesday, April 9 from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., according to members of the student symposium committee.

The symposium will center around discussion of the "Joint Statement of Rights" issued by the American Association of College Professors recently. The committee hopes to compile a list of suggestions for the solution to problems the students cite at the symposium and submit it to the administration.

In a letter to be sent to the faculty, the committee, a group of students on campus, states that during the past two quarters student discontent has increased markedly at Green River. "The gap is broadening between the students and the faculty and administration." They feel that the crux of the problem is an absence of intellectual student involvement on campus. "The student body is as responsible for this absence of involvement as is the faculty and the administration."

"It is our goal to establish a tradition of student participation through student initiation and direction of an activity which will be both intellectually and socially results," according to Sylvia Strong, member of the committee.

The committee goes on to state that "it is encouraging that a number of students are willing to take their time to attempt to change the apathetic atmosphere which prevails on our campus, and we are sure that members of the faculty will give us some measure of support."

Following the mailing of these letters to members of the faculty, members of the committee will talk to the faculty to get verbal approval for their efforts, and then go to the administration.

At the symposium, the Statement of Rights will be read and then students will break into discussion groups to discuss various points of the statement. The groups will reassemble into an audience where the symposium committee will head a panel discussion. Following the discussion the committee will draw up suggestions for problem solving at Green River for the administration.

GRC Rings On Sale

Green River graduation rings are now on sale in the bookstore for all freshmen and graduating sophomores. The prices of the rings vary according to the style and weight chosen, according to Mrs. Pat Bonatts, bookstore manager. This marks the first year Green River has made college rings available to students.

Applications Due Soon

All students planning to graduate from Green River College in June must pick up their graduation application and return it to the registrar's office by the end of the third week of Spring Quarter according to Mr. Richard Barclay registrar.

Any students wanting to graduate should go to the main office in the administration building and ask for an application and copy of his transcript. The student then figures out on the sheet provided in the application the courses and divisions he has completed.

Then the form should be taken to the registrar's office for processing. As soon as the registrar's office is finished processing the form the student's name will appear in the daily bulletin which means that he should pick up the processed application and take it to his advisor.

After checking his spring schedule with his advisor the student then returns the application to the registrar's office and the process is completed there.

A $5.00 deposit must be made when a student orders a ring, and the approximate delivery time is four weeks.

The men's style is available in yellow or white gold with either a heavy open back, a plastic back, or a gold close back for $28.00 to $39.00.

Any students returning for Spring Quarter must contact his advisor as soon as possible to schedule an advising appointment. Many advisors complete their advising prior to the end of the quarter and will not be available for advising on the scheduled dates, March 20 and 21.

Students who do not have their advising booklet at their advising time or at the time of registration will not be allowed to complete their registration until March 27 with the non-students. Registration will end on March 27 and Spring Quarter will begin the next day March 28.

Chromatography Seminar Slated Tomorrow

Mr. Dennis Regan, chemistry instructor, will explain the theory of chromatography and will speak on different types of chromatography at a Chromatography Seminar to be held Saturday, March 9 in the Science-Technology building from 9-11 a.m.

Following Regan's talk on gas, paper, thin-layer, column, ion-exchange, electrophoresis, and partition chromatography, Dr. Edward Fohn, chemistry instructor, will demonstrate how the gas chromatography machine at Green River separates the molecules of a gas and makes available a chart from which the chemical structure of the gas is made available.

Chemistry instructor Phil Manson, will then conclude the seminar with the interpretation of the gas chromatography output.

Students and faculty from the college and from high schools in the Green River Valley, have been invited to participate in the seminar, according to Regan. Group sessions will be held in the classrooms and these will be followed by Dr. Fohn's demonstration.

Visitors will be allowed to insert both known and unknown gasses into the chromatograph for personal experience during Dr. Fohn's demonstration.

Vietnam May Mean Next World War

The fate of not only the United States but the fate of mankind is at stake in the Vietnam War, Dr. Giovanni Costigan told a capacity audience in the Performing Arts auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Costigan, one of the most outspoken critics of the war and the Johnson Administration, maintained that not only has there been no progress toward a solution of the Vietnam problem but that "we are worse off today than ever have been."

The University of Washington history professor said that the war has progressed from a civil war to a colonial war to an international war which now threatens the third "and last World War."

The "agony of the War", Dr. Costigan said is first, the destruction of entire nation, three civilians for every one soldier are being killed "on the pretence of saving a state we are destroying." Second, inflation has come to Vietnam because a soldier's pay is so much higher than standard Vietnamese wages that the cost of living has jumped 100 percent, completely destroying the Vietnamese citizen working for a fixed wage. Third, the consequences to the United States are great. The $30 million annually spent in Vietnam could be used much more effectively at home fighting poverty and slums. Costigan predicted riots and destruction this summer in the United States because these problems are not receiving the proper attention.

Russell Wills, a UW physics instructor, followed Dr. Costigan, speaking in behalf of "Draft Resistance - Seattle." In the question and answer period prior to Wills presentation, Dr. Costigan was asked if he supported draft resistance. He qualified his answer by saying that he hadn't studied the matter sufficiently to take a stand, but as it looked at present he "respected" anyone who would stand up for they believed, even if it meant going to jail, but said he "deplored" their methods. Draft resistance, he contended, really didn't accomplish anything.

SOUNDS ALARM - Dr. Giovanni Costigan warned Green River College students and faculty Wednesday afternoon that the Vietnam could lead to a Third World War which said would be the "last war."

Library Building Traumatic Experience

The Holman Library in itself is a traumatic experience for those directly connected with it and for students interested in obtaining knowledge above and beyond the call of duty.

Just to state a few startling facts:

The expanded library now contains about 15,000 volumes, only half the number expected for 1973.

Auburn Faculty Wives to Raise Scholarship Funds

A variety of bake goods will be available at the annual Auburn Faculty Wives Bake Sale Friday, March 15, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the National Bank of Washington in Auburn. Proceeds from the sale will go to aid the Auburn Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Charles Kanechtel, chairman of the event, indicates that because of the popularity of the doll clothes featured at last year's sale, the Faculty Wives will again sponsor Mrs. Gwen Kealy, 'The Doll Clothes Lady' from Federal Way, with her large selection of doll clothes for most popular dolls.

Sea Aquarium Well-Stocked

"Watching the sea life in this aquarium is like watching these animals in their own environment . . . only here you don't have to get wet."

That was the one comment on the well-kept but unpublicized sea aquarium which the Green River College Biology department maintains. Located in the Science-Technology complex the aquarium is kept well-stocked with representatives of local marine life by members of the science staff and by interested students.

During the past two quarters the aquarium has contained numerous sea stars, cucumbers, and anemones not to mention the ever-present crabs and mollusks. And students aware of the tank's existence have had the opportunity to observe besides the common elements of sea life, some of the more unusual events including the molting process of a crab (later devoured by a sea star) and the process of evisceration in a sea cucumber.

Students visiting the aquarium often find their visits rewarding and interesting. One student put it this way "It's great fun, and really, a profitable experience."

Mothers Observe Children

Pre-school? That's for kids! Or is it? GRCC doesn't think so.

Listed among the adult classes is a series of preschool classes — for the parents of preschool children.

Classes are actually designed to let mothers observe their children in the pre-school set-up and to learn about child development and behavior through their own children.

Mothers take turns in daily class participation and all meet once monthly, without children, to discuss child development.

Three types of pre-school classes are in the series; one for the parents of retarded children, one for parents of normal children, and one especially for the parents of Indian children.

This program was started four years ago by Mrs. Ino Campbell. About five parents participated in the first class. Today there are about 100 parents participating from the Auburn, Kent and Federal Way area.

Classes are held every day from 12 to 2:30 in the GSA building, S. W. C Street in Auburn.

Incoming magazines monthly number about 150, and new books are cataloged and placed on the shelves daily.

Subject matter of both books and magazines varies as much as the field of subjects and variety of classes offered at GRCC.

Some magazine back issues date into the 1800's and right now magazines from the 1940's are being bound into book form.

Reference material includes things from the usual dictionaries and almanacs to Congressional and legal records.

Micro-filmed copies of back issues of major American newspapers can be viewed, and a coin-op duplicator is available for student use.

The language lab can replay tapes of speeches, class lectures, and foreign language.

These are only a few facts about what the always expanding Holman Library now offers.

If you would like to know more, drop in some time and thumb through the card catalog which, by the way, classifies each book under author, title and subject.

R & I Committer Forms Research Projects, Study

Eleven Green River instructors are participating as heads of committees formed by the Research and Innovation Committee to study means for furthering the educational capacities of students, according to Mr. Ray Needham, Dean of Instruction.

The Research and Innovation Committee has allocated and approved funds to these various instructors for these projects concerning education and the student.

Miss Sandra Gallaher, counselor, has submitted plans for the research of student characteristics. An archeology site development is the special project being carried out by Mr. Gerald Hedlund.

Mr. Pat Cummins is involved with a project that will determine projected demands for Forest Technology, and Mrs. Nancy Farness, physical education instructor, is studying recreation and leadership programs.

Dr. Edward Fohn, chemistry instructor, is preparing and editing ten four-minute chemistry films for use by GRCC students, and Mr. Gerald Miller is planning to do some geologic mapping and obtain specimens from Skagit County for class study.

Mr. Dennis White, biology instructor, is planning for the construction of a permanent pond for the purpose of studying aquatic ecology.

Mr. Jack Werner, business instructor, is conducting four surveys based on incentives needed to attract management trainees to retail stores in the Northwest.

Also from the business department, Mr. Richard Passage is involved with leadership training for presentation of management training programs.

Mr. Bernard Bleha, art instructor, and Mr. Richard Norman, of the technology department, will visit industries during the summer to discover media and techniques in commercial and technical art.

The projects, which will be carried out until fall, 1968, have individual funds allocated to them by Green River's Research and Innovation Committee.

H. S. Refresher Class Planned

Green River Community College is offering a high school refresher program that concentrates on the basic education areas necessary to pass the G.E.D. test. Students who have failed the G.E.D. test probably do so because of a lack of the basic skills. It is hoped that this twelve week program meeting on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 to 10 p.m., will give them enough background to reach the competency necessary to pass the G.E.D. test.

LIBRARY VISITORS — Two "unidentified" GRCC students met in the library to discuss class problems.

College Queen May Be Green River Coed

One of Green River's co-eds could be the next National College Queen. The annual search is now underway to select and honor "the nation's next outstanding college girl," and a special invitation has been extended to Green River to participate in the 1968 National College Queen Pageant.

One college girl from every State will be flown to Manhattan, New York to compete for honors in the Pageant. All girls, freshmen or sophomores, are eligible to participate. A candidate may send in her own name or be recommended by a classmate, friend, or campus club.

In 1967, the title of National College Queen was earned by Miss Judy Hill, from the University of Washington, who represented the State of Washington in the Pageant.

The next National College Queen will win a 1968 Plymouth Sport Fury convertible, receive a trip to Europe, be awarded a complete wardrobe, besides participate in many events such as the Rose Bowl Parade.

The candidate's academic record, her volunteer activities, and her hobbies are important. The winner will be someone who is active in several phases of campus life. She does not have to be a scholastic genius nor have the beauty of a Hollywood movie star. The candidate will never have to appear in a bathing suit competition nor a talent competition.

The National Finalists face many other types of judging sessions to prove their basic intelligence and qualities of leadership by competing in a series of Forums and Seminars in which open discussions take place where judges award points for the best answers and comments. The candidates discuss education, campus life, current events, art, literature, fashions, career goals, and many other subjects.

For more information on the 1968 National College Queen Pageant, which will be viewed on television this June, contact the Journalism Room, HS-12, or write to National College Queen Contest Committee, P.O. Box 935, New York City, N.Y., 10023

History Class Unlike Ford's Bunk

Henry Ford once said "History is bunk." For those students who are trying to buck Henry's bunk, there's a new class at GRCC designed especially for that purpose. Attempting to get away from the conventional methods of teaching history, the Social Science department at GRCC has combined three instructors and three classes of History of Civilization 102.

The class, which meets at 9:00 o'clock every day, meets together on two of the five class days.

Mr. Adams, an expert on the far East, conducts lectures on that realm of history, while Dr. Jones, an expert in wars, empires, literature, art, and music and Mr. Hanscom, a specialist in philosophies, religions and politics, conduct lectures on the Western realm of history.

Positive Evaluation

All three teachers seemed positive in their evaluation of the program. Dr. Jones stated that the team teaching program was good, because it was a pleasure to "work with Mr. Hanscom and Mr. Adams." He went on to explain that they helped him to become a better teacher. Mr. Hanscom and Mr. Adams both felt that the class was excellent from the teacher's standpoint because it helped them to understand history from a different point of view.

Mr. Hanscom stated that the program was good because it offered variety in presentation from the classroom routine. Besides offering something different, the class also attempts to create a balance between the western and eastern facets of history.

Mr. Adams felt that, of the college lecture series throughout the state GRCC is the most well balanced. This system of team teaching offers the student an opportunity to receive this balance by combining the teaching ability of three instructors who are specialists in their field.

The biggest drawback for the instructors seems to be in the field of presentation. Besides having to replan their schedule, the instructors must meet after every combined class to evaluate the program, and to decide the floorplan for the next class. Not only does this mean that the instructor must revamp his schedule for the coming class, but also for the three days the class regularly would meet.

Student opinion about the combined class was diverse.

Most students felt that although the learning process was strengthened it was hard to know exactly what the teacher wanted out of the class during the test.

Sam Gillespie, freshman from Puyallup High, felt that the program was very good because one is able to filter the teaching ability of three able instructors. He also commented that the instructors sometimes get nervous about teaching to such a large group.

Bob Olson, sophomore student, felt that this program of team teaching was much more interesting than the regular classroom history class.

One co-ed reported that hour of team teaching was fast moving.

While one student praised the program because it created diversity, another felt that the program made it difficult to evaluate what the teacher wanted out of the class. Greg Brovold, GRCC sophomore, felt that it tended to mix one up, yet in the same respect show different approaches to the same subject.

Marshall Trover felt that the program probably would be more effective if only one teacher taught it. With one teacher the student could be better organized for day to day classroom work.

In order to combat the one big problem experienced with such a large group of students, the loss of individuality, Mr. Adams has divided his civilization classes into groups of 10 students. These students meet at different times during the day. Fridays in discussion seminars. During these discussion groups the students participate by asking questions and being asked questions about philosophies, morals of the people, and their cultural pattern of living. For the most part the response was very positive in favor of this method of teaching plus learning.

Whatever the validity of Henry Ford's statement about history, (and few could claim there's any) there's no doubt in anyone's mind that Henry would be proud of one GRCC student enrolled in the program. When asked what she thought of the team teaching, she replied, "I think it's great. It's the only way I can skip without the teacher knowing it."

Gatormen Start Tournney Action

Going into the state tournament Moses Taylor leads Green River's Gators in four departments — most field goals, most field goals attempted, total points, and average. Taylor has hit 193 of 346 field goals for an impressive 55.7 per cent (but good enough only for third place on the team in that department), and has scored 475 points for a 19.0 average.

John Harrell has the best field goal average on the team, hitting 58.8 per cent of his shots from the field. Marion Bozman is hitting 57 per cent, then comes Taylor at 55.8, then Jack Boyett at 54.3 and Greg Brovold at 51.8. The team average is an amazing 51.1 per cent.

Marion Bozman leads the team in three departments — rebounds with 339, 80 ahead of John Harrell's 259 in second place — and in free throws attempted and free throws made. Bo has made 100 of 166 attempts for an unimpressive 60.2 per cent. Brovold leads in the percentage department with 75.9, hitting 41 for 54.

Tim Cummings leads the team in two departments — fouls and assists. Cummings has committed 85 fouls this year, one more than Bozman, and has 100 assists, by far the best on the team in that department. Duane Barnette is second with 38.

MARION VEHRON BOZMAN is a 6'8" sophomore transfer student from Eastern Washington State College who twice made All State in high school at Thronton, Arkansas. He was named most valuable player his senior year and scored the most points of any player for the season, averaging 28 points a game, and the most in one game, 44.

In the NAVY, he made the All-Service team two years in a row. The tall veteran is a math major with art as a hobby.

DUANE BARNETTE, one of the smoothest ball handlers in the game of basketball, is a strong starting guard on this year's varsity. Barnette, a sophomore who played at Eastern Washington State College last year as a freshman, is a 6'1", 179-pounder.

He is a graduate of Middleton High School in Ohio where he turned in the best foul shooting percentage for the season and was second on the team in assists. He is a business administration major with a side interest in music.

Barnette, a nephew of a former Harlem Globetrotter, hopes to play pro ball some day himself.

MICHAEL STEVEN WILLIS, 6'4" forward from Renton, has the distinction of playing on two state championship teams and last year received honorable mention in the Puget Sound League All-Conference voting.

Mike is the freshman class president and takes an active part in student government. He is a business administration major.

ROGER SLOAN joined the Gators winter quarter last year and immediately broke into the starting line-up, bringing spark and fire to the club. The 6'1" Bethany, Okla., lad can play either guard or forward.

An aggressive leader, he was voted president of the Student Body last spring.

JACK G. BOYETT, voted the "Most Inspirational" and "Most Improved" ball-player at Green River last year, is hustling in his job as a forward.

The 6'5", 170-pound Kent-Meridian High School graduate, is a business administration major.

JEFF GIBBONS is a 6' sophomore guard from Puyallup. He is a transfer student from Central Washington State College and is majoring in Social Studies.

MOSES LARRY TAYLOR, JR., is a 6'1" guard who played last year for Columbia Basin, runner-up to Spokane for the state championship.

The Garfield High School basketball veteran is one of the most colorful players on the team and a center of attention off the court. He is majoring in electronics.

JOHN HARRELL, JR., a freshman from Hamilton, Ohio, near Cincinnati, brings to the Northwest an impressive list of basketball credits. He was rated Honorable Mention on the Royal Crown Cola Coaches' Association High School All American team.

He was team captain, top scorer (averaging 19 points a game), All Conference and All State, most inspirational player, top rebounder on the team (averaging 14 per game) and holds the record for the most points in game at Taft High in Hamilton, 31.

GREG BROVOLD, a 6'5" starting center last year, was the team's leading scorer and rebounder. The former Puget Sound League All-Conference star from Enumclaw, averaged 17.9 points per game for the Gators, hitting an impressive 48 percent from the field.

He ranked seventh in the state in scoring and was voted to the first team in the Northern Division All-Conference balloting. Brovold is an all-sports star. In high school he lettered two years in football, three years in basketball, one year in baseball and one year in track.

At Green River last year he wanted to pitch on the baseball team, but when the college didn't field a team he went out for track and proved to be one of the best javelin men in the state.

He also ran the hurdles, put the shot, and threw the discus.

JERRY WALSTON, 6'3" forward-center from Fife, was the top rebounder for Fife and was the top scorer in one game with 23.

GARY CRESSMAN, a 6'4" freshman center from South Kitsap High, starred in football, basketball and baseball in Port Orchard. In football he won All-League honorable mention and All Opponent Honorable Mention.

In basketball he was voted Most Improved Player and All-League Honorable Mention his junior year and All-League second team and Most Inspirational Player in his senior year.

TERRY RUDNICK, a 6'5" sophomore from Orting High School who played last year for Yakima Valley College, is former teammate of Dave Bordon, one of the Gator's starting guards last season. The forward was twice elected to the All-Conference football team, twice to the All-Conference basketball five, and made honorable mention All-State his senior year.

He was the team's leading rebounder in both his junior and senior seasons in High school and was rated Most Inspirational Player his last year at Orting.

Mike Willis Leads Gator JV Scoring

Mike Willis, former Renton High School basketball star who has played on two state championship teams, is leading the Green River Community College Junior Varsity squad in scoring.

Willis has scored 156 points in 8 games for a 19.5 average. Gary Cressman, of the teammates playing the full JV season of 16 games, has averaged 17.4 points per game scoring 278 points. Paul Rushton, 5'5" guard, is third in the scoring department with 213 points for an average of 13.2 in 16 games.

Rushton, former Franklin Pierce starter, is the leading foul shooter on the team with 46 in 11 games., nine ahead of Cressman who has 37. Jerry Walston, former Fife High School top rebounder is third in this department, tied with Terry Rudnick having scored 2 free throws in 11 games.

Jeff Gibbons, sophomore guard from Puyallup, leads the fouling department with 40 fouls in 11 games for an average of 3.6 fouls per game. He is eight ahead of Rudnick who has 32 fouls. However, Rudnick has made these fouls in 13 games. Cressman is third in the foul department with 30 in 13 games.

The Junior Varsity finished their season last week and ended with a 12-5 winning season. Other team members are Lloyd Montgomery, freshman guard from Cordova High School; and Sam Gillespie, 5'11" guard from Puyallup.

Intramural Conference Nears End

Time is running out as the Green River intramural convereence rounds the turn and heads into the backstretch. With 10 regular season games left, the race tightens and no one has won the crown yet.

Last Thursday the pre-season favorite, Faculty Team, made its bid for top honors by downing Team 8. Team 6 kept pace by bounding Team 9. On Tuesday, Team 8 rebounded from their setback to drop Team 6 into fifth place.

Team 8 consists of Phil Lewis, Rich Score, Ken Gorley, Larry Urieze, Chuck Kelso, Tom Hill, Randy Haydon, and Larry Knipshchild. Team 6 is comprised of only six players, including Ron Libadia, Phil Mendoza, Terry Wilkenson, Wayne Grass, Dick Deal, and Mike Henrickson.

Tracksters, Diamonddeers Readyng for Season Play

This week marked the initial turnouts for Marv Nelson's baseball team and Coach Larry Turnbull's track team. Typical spring weather forced the batmen to practice inside, but early indications show great promise for the first Gator baseball club, according to Coach Nelson.

The first intra-squad game will take place sometime next week. At this time Coach Nelson will be able to approximate his squad's potential. Good depth at pitching will be a strong point while a solid outfield and infield is in the making.

Dan Barrett will probably get the starting nod as he has the most impressive record. Last summer the 6', 175 pounder won nine and lost only one for Renton High School. He also hit a phenomenal .410 in Connie Mack League last summer. Dan was on the Puget Sound League All-Star Team in his senior year. The other pitchers are Randy Hatfield (North Kitsap, 5-2), and John Smith (Anacortes 4-3).

In the infield Nelson has his eye on Chuck Bayless Bary LaBrie, and Russ Knights. Bayless from Renton plays first base and hits in the upper .300 bracket. Knights a freshman from Issaquah is a

.330 hitter and "a fine defensive man." Gary LaBrie from Redmond nailed down all-conference positions in his junior and senior years in high school and played on Connie Mack All-Star teams for three years.

Rounding out the list are outfielders Steve Adams, and Dave Wohlhueter. Steve was graduated from Issaquah hitting at a .350 clip, while Wohluter a hometown (Auburn) boy, hit .265 in the new rough American Legion last summer.

Returning lettermen Dave Caviezel from Sumner and Greg Brovold of Enumclaw will serve as the nucleus for the 1968 track team. Caviezel also a cross-country letterman is a distance runner Greg a two-year basketball letter winner competes in the javelin. Coach Turnbull also expects help from Don Goodard, Dennis Cogger, and Jim Olson. Goodard, a 1967 graduate of Sumner High School, was the Seamount League Champion in the 100 yard dash. Cogger and Olson are both high jumpers.

Turnbull feels the team's strong point will lie in the distance competition. Guy Wood and Dennis Jones will round out that category. Both are GRCC stand outs.

Finals Panic Eased by 'Pill-Popping'

(ACP) — For the price of a quarter, a number of University of Redlands (Calif.) students were able to purchase extra study time during final exams recently, the Redlands Bulldog reports. How? By using "pep pills."

The university has never been noted for extensive use of benzedrine or dexedrine, the newspaper reports, but in recent months "pill-popping" has quietly come into style. The dominant reason appears to be the need for extra study time and powers of concentration during exam periods.

Says one student: "I just didn't have enough time. When I was offered the chance to try the pills I jumped at it. As far as I could tell, they had no harmful effect on me and they did improve my studying during a crucial period." Users at Redlands are conservatively estimated at 75 to 100.

College students and administrators have long recognized the increasing use of stimulants on campuses. These compounds, commonly derivatives of ephedrine, such as benzedrine and dexedrine, are generally used either in large quantities for their narcotic-like effect or in smaller doses for their ability to extend awareness and decrease the need for sleep.

According to university physician Charles Bazuin, they are not habit-forming but can cause extreme after-effects if used for a long time. "They cause an increase in the activity of the cerebral cortex (the center of conscious thought)," Bazuin said. "In addition, they can alleviate fatigue and aid dietary programs, which is their common medical usage."

Despite federal legislation against possession without a prescription, it appears that the pills are readily available to students. Major sources are contacts with pharmaceutical outlets and illegal smuggling from Mexico.

One sophomore had a close friend working in a drug store; a junior listed his sister's diet-pill prescription as his source. An upperclassman claimed he received pills from the infirmary to increase his awareness.

"After a severe cold," the upperclassman said, "I complained about not being able to study because of lingering after-effects. I was given a supply of benzedrine tablets."

For most students, the pills are not obtained cheaply. The average for a small tablet is 25 cents, while more powerful doses may cost as much as three times that amount. One enterprising senior admitted selling pills for $1 apiece during the last days of finals, when the pill supply was apparently diminishing.

A recent Wall Street Journal article reported that "pill-popping" is getting to be a common practice on the college scene. "Aside from the purely physical dangers," the Journal said, "pep pills don't always keep students alert. One Northwestern student, who emerged from an exam convinced he had scored extremely well, discovered to his horror that he had written over and over on his first page — which he had neglected to turn."

The third annual Deseret Club Folk Festival will be staged in the college's Performing Arts Building on Friday, March 29.

Folk singing talent from Green River College and the University of Washington, plus a couple of GRCC alums will be featured on the program, according to Geri Renner, president of the club.

Battle of Bands Set for Saturday

The ASB has announced a battle of the bands to be held in the college gymnasium on Saturday, March 30.

The Worms and the Hot Ice will battle it out between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. free for students with a dance card and 1.00 for students with ASB cards and their guests.

Symposiums Scheduled

A symposium, "The Role of the Technician in Industry," will be presented Thursday, March 14, by the Technology Division at Green River in the Performing Arts Building.

The symposium, slated to begin at 1 p.m., will feature presentations by representatives of Lawrence Radiation Laboratories in Livermore, California, electronics and mechanical engineering technicians; by the Washington State Department of Natural Resources, Olympia, forestry technicians; and by Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield, engineering consultants in Seattle, civil engineering technicians.

Counseling staffs from various high schools are being invited to the symposium, according to Neil Uhlman, co-ordinator from the program.

On April 4 there will be a symposium on Business and Industrial Relations on campus. Three hundred letters have been sent to offices and business agencies throughout the area, inviting them to come and visit the campus. A recruitment program for students from GRCC (freshmen and graduates) to their places of business will be discussed.

Former Green River student Gary Whitman and his wife, the former Linda Tuck, a nursing student at the college, will be appearing on the program for the third year in a row. Gary is one of the top guitar, banjo players in the area and at one time accompanied the Chad Mitchell Trio during a Northwest appearance.

"One thing about Gary, though," warned Miss Renner, "his jokes are just about as bad as Mr. Eaton's, from what I've heard." Ed Eaton, adviser to the club, will again be the master of ceremonies for the program.

The program is being presented on the second day of the new quarter and therefore little conflict with other activity is expected.

Company Reps. To Visit GR

Representatives from several companies are scheduled to appear on GRCC's campus from March 12 to the end of the college year, holding lectures and talking with students about jobs and their future plans.

On March 12, Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Co. will be sending two representatives, Mr. Roger Stern and Mrs. Margaret James, who will speak with both men and women in the fields of: Electronics, Civil and Mechanical Engineering, Management, Business, and Engineering Technology. They are looking for girls in the areas of Clerk Typists, Data Processing, Key Punch, and Computer Programs. Careers for men in the job areas of Engineering Electronics, Pre-Engineering, MET and CET, will be needed. The two representatives will return on Wednesday, March 14 to test students in whom they are interested.

Those interested should contact the Counseling Center for the time and place of the meetings or watch the daily bulletin.
